

A Free, Responsible and Aggressive Press is Democracy's First Line of Defense

Duties of Press, Radio Associate Justice Wiley Rutledge, of the U. S. Supreme Court, expresses a view that some "public or semi-public sources of enlightenment" have departed from Thomas Jefferson's injunction against every form of tyranny over the mind of man.

The Justice points out that education is not sufficient to make Democracy workable and says that sources of enlightenment must be "governed alone by that sincere regard for truth" that will make it an aid to the general welfare, rather than that of some "special interest."

We are quite agreed with the statements of the eminent jurist and with his conclusion that there is evidence that the press, "with notable exceptions," might be departing from the Jeffersonian standard. Moreover, he adds, the radio "is so much devoted to advertising and sheer entertainment," that it does not perform half of its possible functions.

The Justice made his comments in connection with a commencement program and, while his words are not to be taken as a condemnation of the press as a whole, or the radio, or our educational institutions, it is important that the people of this country understand the possible service that these groups can render to the government and the people of the United States.

We would hesitate to suggest what percentage of the groups are falling away from the standard of public service, enjoined by Thomas Jefferson, but, despite admitted shortcomings, there are instances, every once in a while, that the high ideals of newspapers and newspaper writers.

A mass of locusts, twenty-eight miles long and two and a half miles wide, is reported—advancing on the crops near Crostano, Sardinia, and relief officials are rushing vehicles to the island to help fight the plague of insects.

The locusts are really "grasshoppers" in years gone by, vast bodies of these insects swept from one region to another, in swarms so dense as to darken the sun. They fed on grass and herbage, consumed crops and pastures as if by fire, and even stripped bushes and trees of foliage and of bark. In time, they caused extensive local famines, sometimes resulting in the loss of thousands of human lives and vast numbers of grazing animals.

Grasshopper plagues have occurred in the United States, especially west of the Mississippi River. The great plagues of 1856 and 1874 caused widespread ruin, but entomologists pointed out that the best defense is the cultivation of land which destroys the eggs and young by late and early plowing. While grasshoppers sometimes are harmful locally in the West, extended plagues are not expected to reappear.

IF THE AVERAGE MAN AND WOMAN DID, EVERY day, half of the good things he could do for others, more than half the ills of the world would vanish. The Boy Scout is taught to do at least one good deed every day; what opportunities there are open to the Man and Woman Scout!

Plan Now

FOR THAT YEAR 'ROUND VACATION From Work and Worry, Dirt and Grime... IN THE HOME

You, too, can join the thousands of Michigan homemakers who are planning to change to happier, better, carefree living year 'round in a modern all gas home just as soon as complete gas service is again available. Modern gas service puts an end to tiring, troublesome furnace stoves, stoves, dirt and grime. In summer you can enjoy cool, filtered, invigorating air free from wilding humidity while in winter you'll have clean, healthfully humidified warmth.

And, of course, gas is tops when it comes to heating, water, cooking, means of protecting your food. It's the cleanest, most economical and dependable household servant in the world. So, if it's greater freedom, happier, better living you want, be sure to include the magic of modern gas service in your plans for the future.

GAS THE WONDER-FUEL THAT BRINGS GREATER COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE INTO THE HOME CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

Phones In Automobiles With a private radio-telephone in his automobile, a resident of St. Louis can press a button, get an operator and, in a few seconds, be connected with any one of the country's 27,000,000 regular telephones.

The new system has been opened up in St. Louis under an operating license issued by the Federal Communications Commission, but it is so new that there are few subscribers. If the public demands such a service, the vehicular installations will be made and regular phone numbers assigned.

This is an interesting development which, if it becomes general, will render considerable service. Obviously, large industrial or manufacturing concerns, operating a fleet of trucks, will find it advantageous to be able to contact any driver at any time. The same service would be a great boon to doctors and other individuals who spend much of their time travelling.

The success of the service will depend largely upon its cost. If the price is cheap enough, the field of possible users will be widened. You can even envision the day when a newspaper reporter, returning from an assignment, will call up his home office and dictate his report while on the road.

Urge A Tough Policy Four members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, after a two-month trip to Europe, suggest "immediate abandonment of any semblance of appeasement in our negotiations and relations with Russia."

Representative Gordon, of Illinois, Ryter of Connecticut, Mundt of South Dakota, and Bolton, of Ohio, the first two being Democrats and the last two, Republicans, joined in advocating a policy of "complete reciprocity" with Russia, insisting that "no greater privileges should be extended to Russians in the United States than are extended to Americans in Russia."

Moreover, they say that it has "become evident in Moscow that each time we have taken a different attitude and refused to yield to any and every Soviet demand, our Embassy has found it increasingly easy to deal with Russian officials."

Happenings of Long Ago

50 YEARS AGO July 18, 1896 "Sound, a lap robe. The owner can have same by calling on this office and paying for this advertisement."

"The Michigan Telephone Co. served the public fairly, satisfactorily, and without pay in furnishing the proceedings of the National Democratic Convention at Chicago last week. The Presidential nomination was announced throughout the entire state of Michigan by the long distance telephone fifteen minutes before the telegraph announced the news, showing that the telephone lines and leads are right up to date."

"John B. Barron of Howell, came over and the telephone lines and leads are right up to date. John George was out at Chicago last week, and most of the time held a kind of informal reception during the entire week—glad to see his old friends and maybe his old friends were glad to see him. Thanks to Mrs. Parker, his employer, who kindly loaned John for the week."

20 YEARS AGO July 15, 1926 "A rioter became ignited last Sunday evening while being filled with gasoline on South Woodward Avenue but quickly extinguished by use of chemicals by the fire department prevented serious injury to life or property. The fire began under the telephone bank which was lit by a passenger. A large fire and spread over a large area of the liquid which the quickly pulled out of course poured upon the ground. Chemicals were played upon the area and prevented an explosion in an ordinary visitor."

"While the night police force has been busy making raids and arrests, the city officers have continued their crusade against speeders and stop signal violators. The force is nearly forty, approximately twenty speeding arrests included. Myers has totaled three and Sergeant C. J. Green has brought in an ordinary violator."

"The vacation Bible school camp over at the Mt. Pleasant church this summer is proving a great success. Inasmuch as this is the first year of the kind in Birmingham, all efforts are being made by those in charge to create the most enjoyable and profitable of most value."

"More than one hundred children are interested in the program, and all are interested and busy. There are three groups of children, arranged according to ages. The kindergarten group, under Mrs. Binkie, a teacher from the Adams school, directs the primary children. The kindergarten has charge of the junior group."

5 YEARS AGO July 17, 1941 "The night was dark and a strange light appeared in the front of E. W. Osborne's Ford garage last Friday. Two men in dark clothing were seen to be looking the car over, and they were called and they rushed up to the car. The chief passenger was not other than P. W. Osborne."

"Perhaps to celebrate, Britain's new alliance with Russia a grand enter this week affixed a red flag to the very top of the City's water tower. Police chief Hackett, in searching for Communists—he thinks that "kids" did it. Meanwhile, Mark St. Denis, superintendent of public works, is preparing to have a workman climb the ladder and bring the flag down."

"The Oakland County Gas & Oil station on South Woodward avenue reported to police Monday night that a car drove away without paying for gasoline. The license number was given to police and traced to a Beverly Hills youth. However, while police were busy, the youth returned and paid for the fuel, declaring he had lost his purse."

A driver whose attention was distracted by his "chubby" in the car, crashed into the parked machine of Donald L. Cummings, 436 Greentree, Ala., in Dr. Wilson's drug store Sunday morning. The driver, Sam Francis, 24 years old, of Detroit, driving South on Woodward, wrote in his police report: "I asked my buddies how they were doing. They did not answer so I turned to see what was the matter." In that fleeting moment, Cummings' auto was hit."
