Playground Costume Parade Gives Youngsters Much Fun

The costume parade held at the Pierce field playground last Friday morning produced a colorful and clever array of ensembles, grandly displayed by the young members of the playground as they marched around the ring, keeping in step with the help of drummers, Roger Jackson and Bobby Jackson.

Indians; cowboys and cowgirls; Chinamen; tramps; Little Red Riding Hood; Billy Conn, neatly handgaged in a hundred different places; clowns; "Happy," one of Robert Buckborough and their daughter, Sherry, of 5th Street; Mr. Emerson's brother, Charles Emerson at Compton; and Mrs. Emerson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey of Palm Springs.

PVT. LESLIE EBY, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hyatt Eby of Puritan road, was home on a ten-day leave after completing his Marine boot training at Parris Island, S. C. He expects to leave for overseas duty immediately.

The Seven Dwarfs; and Miss America were some of the entries. Others were a badly banged-up Jap flier carrying a white flag of truce; a vegetable man with every kind of vegetable hanging from his jeans, shirt, and straw hat; a little ballet dancer; a handsome Spaniard; a wicked-looking pirate and a Revolutionary soldier with long flowing locks which kept falling off.

After the children had circled the tankard, they assembled in the center of the ring and, under the direction of Doris Minks, playground director, sang a song to the audience. Then Ringmaster Donald Jones, in his stovetop hat and cutaway coat, introduced a series of acts presented by the children.

First, Donald Laird sang a farmer's song, followed by Wayne and Richard Goggin and Neil Shogren who sang the "Three Graces Hat." Then Barbara and Mary Ann Carroll, Mary and Marjorie Gagan, Delores Morrill, Nora Kachadurian, and Carolyn Roberts sang the "Teapot Song."

For the finale, a tumbling act was put on by Jerry Cavette, Neil Shogren, Chuck Feldman, Richard Goggin, Donald Laird, and Gary Littlejohn.

At the end of the program the judges, Mrs. Edward Laird, Mrs. Earl Roberts, and Mrs. Wilson Feldman announced the winners and Ringmaster Jones awarded the prizes.

Prize for the prettiest costume went to Mary Gagan who wore a clever gown of white crepe paper trimmed in green. Most original costume was that of Billy Conn alias Ted Schaefer. Richard Goggin as the tramp was awarded the prize for the funniest costume and the prize for the best character costume was won by Nora Kachadurian as "Happy."

Consolation prizes were awarded to Edgar Curtis as the Jap flier and Marsh Melbush who wore the costume of a ballet dancer.

The average American factory worker can buy a pair of shoes for less than three hours of his labor.
