RECORDS
THE RECORD CORNER
 "SONGS OF THE ZOO," sung by John and Lucy Allison, is presented on a single record.
 The lyrics are sung in such a way that it fascinates the younger set. You will definitely want this record for your boy or girl.
 "ONE STRING FIDDLE" as told by Paul Wang with music, is in a show piece album including two records. It is a constructive story that your boy or girl will want to hear over and over.
 "TUBBY THE TUBA" is a personification of a tuba and his many troubles. Victor Jory as narrator and music by George Kleinsinger. The handiest feature of his album is that the records can be sat upon and tugged with nary a crack in sight.
 Margaret O'Brien comes to us as narrator for "THE TOWN MUSICIANS" and "THE
 THREE BILLY GOAT'S GRUFF" all in one complete album. Incidental music and gripping sound effects are included. This album is set for an automatic record changer.
 To have you unnecessary steps.
 The kiddies thrill to Margaret's voice.
 Puss in Boots; Rumpelstiltskin; Jack and the Beanstalk; all three delightful stories compiled in one album with "THE GREAT GILDERSLLEEVE" as narrator and with an exciting orchestral background. The manner in which this is presented commands the attention of children from 3 to 30.

Annual Detroit Horse Show An Event of Last Week End
 By Judy Sappington
 Postwar resumption of the Detroit Horse Show, held last week end at the country barns of the Club, brought together hot weather, 3,000 spectators, and skilled horsemanship and evented them into one of the most colorful and successful week ends of the season.
 Exhibitors from many different parts of the country began arriving with their horses, trainers, and riders on Thursday. Outstanding among them was Mrs. Hugh Barclay, owner of the 1,800-acre Douglass Manor Farms near Putnam, N. Y., who is rated the No. 1 horse show exhibitor in the country.
 An innovation to the horse show this year was Junior Day, held Thursday, which featured many promising young riders from Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and surrounding areas. A few came from out-of-state.
 A Wine Championship
 Janet McFattie, thirteen-year-old Bloomfield Hills rider, claimed top honors of the day. She scored 92 points in five classes to edge Barbara Fruehan for the championship. Barbara, with eight points, won the Reserve Championship.
 Another local girl figured in the day's events. Jo Robinson, daughter of the E. B. Robinsons of Ed-mingham, was winner in the bareback class on John Peel.
 Some of the young people who
