Christ Church Cranbrook Scene Of Knox-Bowen Rites

In a lovely afternoon ceremony last Thursday at Christ Church Cranbrook, Rosemary Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henwick McLaren Knox of Lake Park drive, became the bride of William Alford Bowen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer Bowen of Westfield, N. J. The Rev. Charles E. Goffigan read the ceremony at 4:30.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an off-shoulder gown of white satin with a sheer marquisette yoke to a high neckline. Long tight sleeves extended to points over the wrists and her ivory fall skirt fell into a medium train. Her long veil of heirloom lace was held in place by a Dutch cap of the same lace. She carried white roses and gardenias.

Charlotte Erick of Beverly Hills, Calif., was her cousin's maid-of-honor. She was dressed in aqua marquisette. A tiny cap of aqua veiling with a wreath of flowers fashioned her headpiece and her bouquet was of pale yellow roses.

Bridesmaids, Clara Nicol and Evelyn Lough wore pink marquisette with pink headresses and carried pink roses.

David Upton of St. Joseph, Mich., was best man, with Lawrence Cabalen of Wyandotte; Pvt. Jim Knox and Renwick Knox, brothers of the bride; Andrew Erick of Beverly Hills; and Howard Orr, of Circleville, O., seating the guests.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony. The wedding party received in front of the fireplace which was banked with white delphinium, lilacs and gladioli. Mrs. Knox wore a floor-length gown of grey sheer crepe and a pink and grey minkie halo hat with pink roses. Mrs. Bowen was gowned in light blue crepe with light pink and blue embroidery and a matching hat. Her corsage was of pink roses. Also assisting in the receiving line was Mrs. Duncan, Erick of Beverly Hills, Calif., sister of Mr. Knox. She wore a white flower gown with a white hat and a corsage of white callias.

When the newlyweds left for the Bowen summer cottage on Lake Seneca in the Finger Lakes of New York Mrs. Bowen was wearing a summer print dress with matching jacket, black patent leather accessories, a black hat half with pink roses and a corsage of white roses and gardenias. They will live in Ann Arbor after September 1.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. John Moran and daughter, Sally, of Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. John Kepler of New York City, and Rulison Knox, cousin of Mr. Knox, of Milwaukee.

Word of Advice

Woman's Club Speaker: "And, ladies, don't turn away the wanderer seeking food at your door. It's only then that wives will know what a relief it is to see a man eat a meal without finding fault with the food."

NO COMPETITION ?... THERE'S PLENTY OF IT

More than any other private business, the utility is in direct and continuous competition with the theories and, in some sections of the United States, with the works of those who would turn private business into government business.

The Detroit Edison Company competes for your business in your home, because there is nothing which compels the use of electricity exclusively in the operation of many household appliances.

Industries are free to build plants for the manufacture of their own electric power, and a few have done so.

Because of the existence of real competition, The Detroit Edison Company is required to produce so efficiently that the industrialist cannot afford to generate his own power.

Detroit Edison is required to serve the home so well that its occupants will PREFER electricity.

Beyond all this is the ever-present fact that our customers—you, the householder, the farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer—expect nothing less than the BEST from The Detroit Edison Company. We are in constant competition with that standard of price, dependability and service which you fix for us—with your idea of what Detroit Edison should be.

Upon our ability to meet that competition depends our right to survive and prosper. Direct competition by another electric company is legitimated by law as a matter of public policy. That policy vests exercise of the economy of mass purchase and mass production without wasteful duplications. The safeguards of public regulation are combined with the enterprise and efficiency of private management. The objective and the result—extraordinary service at reasonable cost.
