

Tea Given Honoring Pre-School Children And Mothers, June 5

The PTA of Holy Name Parochial School sponsored a tea and meeting in the Alumnae House from 2:30 to 4:30 on the afternoon of June 5th, for pre-kindergarten children and their parents. The purpose of the tea was to enroll the children for next year and to introduce them to school life and surroundings.

Mother Joan Theresa, principal, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Anyce Gillette, city nurse, explained the health program of the school to the mothers, and Sister O'Brien gave a short talk on schedules and type of work done by the children in the kindergarten.

During the tea, which was served by past-president Mrs. William Carroll and newly elected president, Mrs. Richard Roach, of the Holy Name Parent Teachers Association, the children had their own party and a musicale conducted by Sister Bethany.

Miss Marinna Lake introduced the small performers in a musical program planned to entertain the little guests and their mothers. The players were Sharon Cutting, John Carpenter, Patsy Rakestraw, Charles Bingham, Martha Kastin, Mike Schrock and Pete Spehax.

Concluding the entertainment for the guests four selections were sung by the Junior Glee Club.

Among the guests who attended were Mrs. Donald McGaffey and David, Mrs. Perry Fremont and Joseph, Mrs. Francis Reed and Harry, Mrs. Bradford Springer and Tim, Mrs. Joseph Westrine and Patricia, Mrs. Glen Carpenter and Jimmy, Mrs. Roger Cudini and Helen Mary. Also attending were Mrs. Thomas Doe and Terry,

Kingswood School Graduation Held At Christ Church

Twenty Birmingham and Bloomfield girls were in the class of fifty-two seniors who were graduated from Kingswood School Cranbrook on Saturday evening, June 8, at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mary Ashby Beck, president of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., delivered the address entitled, "The Challenge of Today." She pointed out that in this age of danger, accelerated change, and suffering for millions, there is to be found a time for new beginnings.

"Democracy is to have a new lease on life. . . The Church will begin again. . . Education has been shaken to its roots." The seniors were urged to meet this challenge individually with exaltation, discrimination, perspective, sound standards of value and "stout, generous, sensitive hearts."

Diplomas were awarded by Margaret A. Augur, Headmistress. The Rev. Charles B. Judigan, the Rev. William S. Hines and the Right Rev. Frank W. Creighton, Bishop of Michigan took part in the service. Ellwood W. Hill was organist.

Prior to commencement Marilyn Spoehr, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Spoehr of Pleasant Ridge, was awarded the Student Council pin for "greatest contribution to the school during the year."

Academic awards went to Claudia Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid of Birmingham, and to Nancy Wolfner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius G. Wolfner of Detroit. Nancy also won the bronze medal given by the French Teachers of America for excellence in French.

Ann Gehrke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehrke of Pleasant Ridge, won the Athletic Cup awarded to that girl of the junior or senior class who represents the finest sportsmanship. Ann was also president of the senior class.
