Claire Rose Kean Is Bride Of Richard Ely Charlton

Tall candelabra and baskets of white stock and gladioli decorated Christ Church Cranbrook last Friday evening when Claire Rose Kean, daughter of Mrs. Harold G. Bushway and Harold V. Kean, of Detroit, became the bride of Richard Ely Charlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Seymour Charlton of Greenwood avenue. The couple spoke their vows at 7 o'clock before the Rev. William S. Hill.

The bride was escorted by the side by her father. She wore a gown of Skinner satin fashioned with an illusion yoke and a high neckline bordered with satin. Long tight sleeves extended in points over the wrists and her full hooded skirt fell into a long train. A veil of white net trimmed with wide bands of white lace reached the end of her train and was held in place by a beaded crown. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Rosemary Kean, cousin of the bride, as maid-of-honor, was gowned in baby blue lace with a full net skirt, a high neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a fuchsia and pale pink net tiara and carried fuchsia roses.

Bridesmaids Trudy Babbitt and Mrs. Jennie Grant of Detroit, and Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. John Roy, and Gladstone Schlaack of Birmingham wore dresses similar to that of the maid-of-honor with fuchsia net tiaras and cascades of fuchsia roses and blue cornflowers.

C. Frederick Charlton II of Chicago was his brother's best man and the guests were seated by Kenneth Duff, William Baldwin, Richard Harvey, James Reiss of

Mrs. Richard Ely Charlton

Detroit, and Thomas Healy of Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Bushway wore a floor-length gown of lime print with black accessories and yellow-centered white iris in her hair. Mrs. Charlton was gowned in aqua crepe with pink accessories and pink flowers in her hair.

A reception at the Community House followed the ceremony, after which the young couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon. For traveling the bride changed into a pink and black print silk dress with a black horsehair hat, black accessories, and a white orchid corsage. On their return they will live at 956 Chester street for the remainder of the summer.

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in a Christian Science Church throughout the world on Sunday, June 24 (Isaiah 55:1): "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and with out price.
Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matthew 9:37-38): "Then shall he send his disciples, the harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "The infinite Truth of the Christ-church has come in this age through a still, small voice, through silent utterances and divine emanation which quicken and increase the beneficial effects of Christianity."
