

Birmingham Women To Distribute New Goodwill Cookbook

"Cooking with Goodwill," published by the Junior Group of the Goodwill Industries, was introduced at a recent tea in the Goodwill Industries Building, Detroit. This new book devotes a whole chapter to frozen foods and their preparation and another chapter to foreign foods. Specialties of foreign countries were sent from the countries to friends in the group and were passed on for publication. All profits from the book sale will go toward the rehabilitation program for the handicapped and volunteers are limited. In charge of distribution in Birmingham are Mrs. T. W. Colman, Cranbrook road; Mrs. Glen Davis, Platts road; Mrs. George Dixon, Glenhurst drive; Mrs. Milton Manley, West Long Lake road; Mrs. J. Franklin Miller, Lone Pine road; Mrs. Robert Mason, Overhill drive; Mrs. George Trumbull, Dunsmuir road; Mrs. H. C. Doss, Shirley drive; Mrs. Raymond Tye-man, Pemberton drive, and Mrs. C. William Osterman, Lahser road. Mrs. Roy Stringer is chairman of the group. All of these women contributed to the book, as did other Birmingham members and their friends.

Two Local Girls Receive Honors

Jane Ann McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. McDonald of Lake Park drive, and Mary Jane Sidway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sidway of Wing Lake road, were graduated from Stephens College at Columbia, Mo., Tuesday evening, May 28.

Miss McDonald was one of 24 senior students from a graduating class of 825 named to the Honor Roll for the year of 1945-46 and featured in the yearbook Stephensophis. She was so honored for her commendable work for the Stephens Recreation Association and for creating a constant atmosphere of fine sportsmanship and loyalty through her quiet and persistent efforts. Miss McDonald was also named the hockey player of the year at the college, last fall.

Miss Sidway was selected and featured in the Stephensophis as the Four-Fold Girl for the 1945-46 school year at the college. She was chosen on the basis of mental strength, physical health, social poise, spiritual vision.

Miss Sidway majored in personnel work at the college, and a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary organization, whose members are chosen from the upper seven per cent of the student body on a scholastic basis. She is a member of Beta Phi Gamma social sorority and the Homarist club at the college.

She was also presented with a fifty dollar savings bond at the Stephens Awards ceremony on Tuesday morning, May 28, which is awarded to the student in the Senior Class who most nearly embodies a combination of the Ten Ideals, with special emphasis on those that make for leadership, namely: foresight, service, discipline, and honesty.

Bridge Enthusiasts Meet On Wednesdays

Nearly 70 Birmingham duplicate bridge players have used the facilities of the Community House Tuesday evening to pursue their hobby. Since March 13 the group has met every Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at a combination of the Ten Ideals, with special emphasis on those that make for leadership, namely: foresight, service, discipline, and honesty.

The group has been under the direction of F. J. McElhaney who is now on vacation. During his absence Robert H. Camp is directing. A policy committee includes besides Mr. Camp, Mrs. Arthur P. Bogue, Mr. R. L. Fletcher, who also acts as treasurer.

During the 12 weeks of play there have been from seven to nine tables each week. Among the regular attendants are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McElhaney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Bogue, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dingman, Mrs. and Mrs. Paul T. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bogue and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Fleigh.

Also included in the regular players are Mrs. Norma Keller, Mrs. Elna Stittman, Mrs. Constance Sills, Harry Weller, Bud Donaldson, Edwin V. Clarke and Mrs. Fletcher.

Any duplicate players are always welcome.

Capt. and Mrs. David Raup Honeyymoon in the Smokies

Candelabra and bouquets of white anemones, peonies, and gladioli decorated the First Presbyterian church last Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Eleanor Mae Wood, daughter of John Fomeroy, of Detroit, served Captain Raup as best man and ushers were Frank Quail, Philip Strom and Richey Bowen, all of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wood chose a powder blue crepe dress and white flowered hat with a powder blue veil. Her corsage was of gardenias and rosebuds. The groom's mother, Mrs. Raup, wore a dress of pink silk jersey with eyelet embroidery and a flowered hat of pink watercolor and shantung roses. Her corsage was of gardenias and violets.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Community House, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon at the Gatlinburg Inn in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. For traveling Mrs. Raup chose a suit of light blue wool with natural tan accessories and her bridal orchid. When they return from their honeymoon, Capt. and Mrs. Raup will make their home in Memphis, Tenn.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. John Carl Stratton, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Harry Henry Purcell, of Sarasota, Fla.; Miss Olive Casey, of Chicago, and Clyde Angle, of Roanoke, Va.

Patricia Hyland And Stanley Fiol Married Saturday

Patricia Ann Hyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hyland of Telegraph road, spoke her vows to Stanley James Fiol, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fiol of Detroit, Saturday afternoon, June 1, at 4:30. The double ring ceremony took place at the First Baptist church with the Rev. Melvino Crump officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves extending to a point over the wrists. Her train was of medium length and her fingertip veil was held in place by a lace Juliet cap adorned with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of cream-colored roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Robert C. Gent of Birmingham, sister of the bride, attended her as matron-of-honor. Her dress was of robin's egg blue embroidered organza with a matching Juliet cap edged in braid. Her bouquet was of pink roses and carnations. Mrs. William E. Hyland of Ecorse and Rae Marie Triggs of Lincoln Park, as bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to that of the matron-of-honor with matching Juliet caps and they carried yellow roses and daisies.

Frank Fiol of Detroit acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Walter Zarski of Detroit and William E. Hyland of Birmingham.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Hyland wore a dress of tulle and tan silk with tan accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents on Telegraph road, the young couple left for Toronto where they will take a boat trip to Thousand Islands and Saginaw Bay.

Out-of-town guests included John Alber and Mrs. Cyress Seftel of Cleveland.
