

New Jewelry Store To Be Opened Here

Announcement was made today of the leasing of the store room at 47 West Maple avenue, in the Hanna building, to Lloyd L. Lake of Pontiac, who plans to open a jewelry store there in the near future. The store is now occupied by the Jack Frederick barber shop, which is to be combined with the Frederick shop further west on Maple avenue.

Mr. Lake, in the jewelry line of work for about 30 years, says he will have a modern store, with new fixtures and equipment and a complete stock.

Work of preparing the store is expected to be started within a few weeks.

NEWS COPY that is submitted early for publication each week is necessarily given preference over late items. The "early bird" gets the space.

TELLS OF WAR WORK

Captain Arthur B. Foley, just back in Birmingham after four years of Army service, mainly with Allied Military Government groups in France and Germany, told interestingly about his personal experiences in the war zones at Monday's Rotary luncheon at the Community House. Rotarians displayed keen interest in present efforts to reorganize and start the educational system in Germany and the attitude of the civil groups and former German soldiers to their status as a defeated nation. The club further plans for its Ladies' Night program at the Community House the night of April 3, when a special program will be presented. The word went out to every Rotarian to "get your tickets next Monday for the Ladies' Night dinner party."

Through the highly productive years of 1940 to 1945, Federal civilian workers employed in industry reduced accident frequency 14 per cent and 41 per cent in the security rate, according to the National Conservation Bureau.

Much New Reading Has Been Placed On Shelves At Baldwin Public Library

By LINDO MOORE

About this time of year is when fever begins to stir a little in his winter hibernation, we notice. Oh, he looks about the same old, same old—but look closely, and you'll see a clean in his eye that begins to lurk over the year's seed catalogue and send for new ones. He broods happily over the double fornicus mysterioso. He doubts the garden section of the public library, poring over learned treatises on shrubs, roses, sprays and fertilizers. And all the time wishing Spring would get on with it so he (it's just as often a she) can dig in the garden again.

For those poor frustrated souls, it is a pleasure to announce that Baldwin Public Library has recently acquired a copy of "The Garden Questions Answered" edited by F. Rockwell. This handy little volume answers just about any question one can think of connected with gardening. Questions are grouped under subject and there is an index.

More Recreational

For more recreational reading, a number of new titles have been added to the rental collection.

"The Turquoise," by Anya Seton. Another one of those colorful novels that back to the 19th century practically anything could happen. This one is an account of the meteoric rise of a beautiful baby named Sante Fe from obscure poverty in a dirty little western village to riches and prominence as the wife of a millionaire.

"Nicoledemus," by Dorothy Walworth. Moving story of the lives of four people who attended services at a fashionable New York church on Easter morning, 1944. Their problems and how they answered them make an absorbing tale.

"Life Line," by Phyllis Borst. English member of Austrian underground during Nazi occupation hits on gruesome idea of posing as manicurist in a hospital to cover his real work.

"Penn Wise," by Elizabeth Cartwright. Bit of fluffy romance for a lazy afternoon.

"Dark Was the Wilderness," by

Latbrup Townsite News

Dwight Joslyn, of Saratoga boulevard, a member of the Birminghams, took the part of Stephen Gaye, noted playwright, Saturday, in the Players Theatre, The Play, "Accident on Youth." He has the distinction of being chosen as one of the 10 best productions shown on Broadway last year. The Ridgeway Players, consisting of more than 150 members, was organized about 33 years ago and to date has given 37 popular theatrical plays. Their annual season play has not yet been chosen, but it will be held in the Pleasant Ridge Community House, after which a party will mark the closing of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of San Jose boulevard and Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Killian of Saratoga boulevard are other members of the organization.

Reva Elias was made vice-president of the Canadian Life Insurance company, recently. The title was given her after a six-months competitive drive covering Canada and the United States, and which she won in easy stride. Miss Elias has been in the insurance capacity 18 months. Before that time she taught in Detroit public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Bigler, of Glenwood boulevard, were hosts Thursday at a co-operative supper for members and friends of the First Presbyterian church of Birmingham. A short skit was given by Allen McClellan, Paul Hoger, Henry Torrence and William Finer. The building fund was increased by $42, and about $500 has been collected at other co-operative suppers held in the Townsite. The smaller Alters' club on boulevard, will open their home for the next co-operative benefit church supper.

Bob Rausa of the Townsite and Cora Joyce Lane of Birmingham were co-hosts at the Lane's residence Saturday. The group of 12 meets each week for games and refreshments. A Treasure Hunt through the Townsite finally wound up at the Lane's. Members include: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bingman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell, Cora Joyce Lane and Bob Rausa, Waide Porter and Shirley Rausa, and Bob Diederich and Virginia Miller of Birmingham.

St. Michael's church is having Lenten services each Wednesday and Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Sunday, March 24th, is Family Holy Communion Sunday at the 9 o'clock mass. The pastor requests that families avail themselves of the privilege. The Aid and Negro collection last Sunday amounted to $54.85.

They also have a complete line of leather cases, and have 4 and 6x cover.

There are some extremely clever and practical items at SHAIN'S . . . made of Elast-Glass, a wonderful new material that is light and pliable . . . waterproof . . . resistant to oil and acid . . . and it cracks or peels . . . The make-up and shampoo caps are very useful. It's large . . . 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches . . . gives complete protection, as it has an inner flap cover dress necklines. With an adjustable neckband . . . Nylon-stitched seams. It is 2.00. The rain-hoods are nice, as they tie under the chin . . . covers shoulders, too, and come in lovely, gay colors. 1.00.

This is just the time of year when a man needs a lightweight, in-between-jacket. They're made of wool gabardine . . . Cravenetted to be water-resistant . . . and come in tan with contrasting brown studs, yokes, collars, and cuffs. Fingerless. They're a good buy . . . as they'll wear and wear, and be awfully useful in the Fall, too.

Something that's been very scarce is back on the shelves at GREEN'S . . . The fine interior flat paint, which is made with special oils and resins to be easily, quickly applied . . . and last longer (takes about an hour). It is washable . . . and, amazingly, leaves none of the usual painterly odor. They have it in a wonderful selection of colors . . . level, soft pastel . . . And a complete line of deep colors for mixing and blending; the exact shade you want. 2.85 a gallon.

Fine pens are again available; and at KINGAID'S, the jewelers in Mortimer's, you'll find a good selection of Waterman pens and sets. These are of excellent quality . . . guaranteed for a hundred years. Pens are $2.50 to 10.00 . . . sets with gold-filled tips and concealed pen points are 13.50 to 17.00, plus tax.
