

Poppleton P.T.A. To Hear Report On Boy Scout Troop, April 5

Poppleton Home Economics Extension Club held its last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. William Curry on Wednesday evening. The subject of the lesson, given by the leader, Mrs. J. H. Goodwin, was on conserving cupboards space. Lunch was served by the hostess.

A number of Poppleton women attended the preliminary meeting held at the City Town Hall last Wednesday, March 20, on refurnishing furniture. An all day work meeting on this topic will be held tomorrow at the town hall. At the April 5th meeting, Poppleton Parent-Teacher Association will hold an election of officers for the coming year. A report on the activities of the newly organized Poppleton Boy Scout Troop will be made at this time. James Snow is scout leader. Jerome Oaks, chairman; C. H. Mason, secretary and treasurer; Leo Sutcliffe is in charge of the outdoor program and Louis Pechota will handle membership. Six new members were enrolled in P.T.A. at the last meeting.

Yesterday afternoon a party for the younger children was sponsored by the P.T.A. A George Clark showed a movie and ice cream and cake were served.

State Convention D. A. R. Attended By Local Members

A group of Birmingham women went to Grand Rapids on Wednesday, March 27, to attend the State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which is taking place on March 27th, 28th, and 29th.

Representing the Piety Hill Chapter are Mrs. Steele R. Sellers, regent; Mrs. Robert P. Kott, recording secretary; Mrs. J. J. Birch, registrar; Mrs. William H. DeGraff, state chairman of national defense; and Mrs. Clarence W. Wacker, Americanism chairman.

This evening Mrs. Hugh D. McLeese, good citizenship pilgrimage chairman, will take to the conference her group of citizenship award winners from the four high schools sponsored by Piety Hill chapter. From Baldwin High there will be Nancy Hanson; from Clavson High School, Dorothy Haven; from Lee Cabin School in Clavson, Betty McKechnie; and from Roosevelt High School in Keeport Harbor, Beverly Veal.

On Friday these girls will attend the luncheon given to honor the good citizenship award winners from all over Michigan. One girl from among the entire group will be chosen to go to the National D.A.R. Congress in Atlantic City in May, taking her place with the girls so honored by the other states of the country.

CONFERENCE AT PONTIAC
The Clinton Valley Regional Conference on Mental Health and Social Welfare is attracting the attention of many Birmingham residents to Pontiac today and tomorrow. On the program committee are Miss Muriel Bruns, girls counselor at Barnum Junior High School, and Mrs. Glen H. Parker, of Birmingham. Mrs. Malcolm Woby, chairman of Christ Church Cranbrook social service department, is chairman of the division to study the veterans' return to the community. A dozen of more organizations will cooperate in the program, which will be at Lincoln Junior High School in Pontiac.

Madelyn Webb Marries John J. MacAloon at High Noon

Madelyn Rose Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cunningham Webb of Bryn Mawr road, spoke her marriage vows to John Joseph MacAloon III, son of Mrs. John MacAloon of Detroit and the late Dr. MacAloon, in Holy Name church at high noon on Saturday, March 23. The Rev. David Duncan officiated.

The sanctuary was banked with palms and tall standards of white gladioli and snapdragons. Vases of white flowers adorned the altar and tapers burned in cathedral candlesticks.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of candlelight satin with a sweetheart neckline. Alençon lace distinguished the shoulders, and the tight bodice fastened to the waist in back with self-covered buttons. Her full skirt extended into a long train and long tight sleeves ending in points over her wrists. Her shoulder veil and a full length veil of bridal illusion fell from an Alençon lace Juliet cap encircled with braided satin. She carried a shower bouquet of white camellias, white orchids and stephanotis.

Clare MacAloon, sister of the bridegroom, was maid-of-honor and Mrs. Lawrence Bennett was the matron-of-honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Gordon Johnson, cousin of the bride; Jean MacKay, Mrs. Lee Gilbert and Mrs. Rosa Stajdel. They all wore stunning off-shoulder gowns of rose petal pink faille with tight bodices, panner skirts and long tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. The honor attendants carried bouquets of Picardy gladioli and sweetheart rosebuds and the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of pastel spring flowers. Their rose petal pink half-hats of illusion were trimmed with bands of fresh flowers matching their bouquets.

Attending Mr. MacAloon as best man was William F. Tindall and assisting the guests were Edgar and Douglas Webb, brothers of the bride; Lawrence Bennett, Lee Gilbert and Eugene Baltzell. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Webb wore a gown of coral crepe with a beaded bodice, a small black hat trimmed with burnt goose feathers, and black accessories. Her flowers were cymbidium orchids. Mrs. MacAloon chose a gown of silk taffeta delicately striped in green and lavender. Harmonizing flowers encircled her crownless and her corsage bouquet was of green orchids. Following the ceremony, a

Matilda Kanai Is Wed to Local Man

The Rev. W. Glen Harris read the double ring ceremony before members of the immediate family and close friends, when Matilda Kanai, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kanai of Dearborn, spoke her marriage vows to Earl L. Moody, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Moody of Purdy street, at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, March 23, in the First Presbyterian church. Baskets of white stock and carnations and roses decorated the church for the candlelight service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white nylon and net with a hoop skirt, three-quarter length sleeves, and a high round neckline with a ruffled bow under the chin. Her ingeniously length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of beaded tulle and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetpeas and gardenias.

Dorothy Bernard of Pontiac, as Matilda's only attendant, wore a gown of silk but over satin. Her short pink veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of satin crepe and her flowers were pale yellow carnations.

Bob Moody was best man for his brother and the ushers included Bill Denney and Donald Upward.

Following a reception at the Community House the couple left on their honeymoon. For travel, Mrs. Moody wore a gray dress with a matching coat, black accessories, and a corsage of gardenias. They will reside in Pontiac.
