What Endocrine can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! This harkens to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL™. This ACTIVOL™ is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-revitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollars? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

Try ENDOCREME Hand Lotion, $1.25 plus tax.

Phyllis Reaney Speaks Her Vows to John N. Maguirean

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Maguirean will make their home in West Dearborn when they return from their honeymoon in Miami Beach, Fla. They were married by the Rev. Harold E. Towne at 8:30 p. m. in the evening of Saturday, Feb. 23, at St. James Episcopal church.

Before an altar banked with palms, white gladiolus and snapdragons, the bride, the former Phyllis Reaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reaney of West Lincoln avenue, spoke her vows to John N. Maguirean, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Maguirean of Dearborn.

Mr. Maguirean wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a long train, a high collar and a long veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and a white handkerchief.

The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Harold E. Towne, assisted by the Rev. J. J. McLaughlin, pastor of St. James Episcopal church. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary and Elizabeth Reaney, and the groomsmen were Messrs. John and William Maguirean.

The bride's traditional white gown featured long tight sleeves and a square neckline. Her veil of tulle was trimmed with heirloom rose points lace and she carried a matching lace fan showered with white orchids and freesias.

The bride's step-sister, Lauren Oakford, was maid-of-honor and Mrs. William Buckman and Mrs. Douglas Vought, Jr., both of Rye, were bridesmaids. They were identical gowns of pale blue tulle with hats of matching tulle. Their bouquets were of yellow freesia and pansies.

Lieut. Muzzy's best man was William Connolly of Pittsburgh and the ushers, Edward Lorchen, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Richard Stock of Bronxville, N. Y.; Milton Oakford, step-brother of the bride; Richard Boone Frye of

Wedding Invitations and Announcements

To Be Socially Correct

GENUINE Engraving lends a personal smartness to calling cards, wedding invitations and announcements. Socially correct too, in fact the accepted social graces demand it. . . for there is no substitute which can convey the character, the charm, the quiet elegance of the genuine.

This holds true for informal cards which are in such demand at present.

For all social forms demanding the service of a skilled engraver, we are happy to serve you and at prices that are within the reach of everyone.
