Birmingham Woman Named Treasurer National Farm and Garden Association

By ESTHER VAN WAGONER TUFFY Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Four Michigan women have been elected high officials in the National Farm and Garden Association...

They are Mrs. Truman Barber, Dearborn, president; Mrs. M. S. Rosevear, Birmingham, treasurer; Mrs. Donald James, Bloomfield Hills, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. J. C. Roberts, Detroit, editor of Home Acres, the association's magazine.

The meeting brought nearly 200 delegates from all sections of the country. During the two-day meeting, they heard agriculture officials urge them to keep up the Victory Gardens during 1946 in order to help feed the world.

Bride's Pageant To Be Held Friday Evening, May 17, Will Feature Styles From The Past Hundred Year Period

The wedding styles of the last hundred years will be featured at a Bride's Pageant in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham at eight o'clock Friday evening, May 17.

Belonging to Miss Emily Leeda Walker, the first gown to be displayed will be one worn by her great aunt, Emily Leeda Austin, in 1848.

Mrs. David Dorman will model the wedding dress which was worn in 1866 by her grandmother, Julia Fairchild, who was born in Birmingham.

Another interesting gown, having a local background, belongs to Mrs. Harry Allen, whose grandfather was the old Birmingham blacksmith. This dress was worn by his daughter, Nellie Richard.

son Clafee, when she married the Birmingham superintendent of schools in 1829. Despite the fact that the ceremony was in August, this dress is of red cashmere, completely black.

There will be gown representative of the periods between the old and the modern, including the "Terrible Twenties." The procession will be headed with the wearing of the gown belonging to Mary Ann Reynolds, a bride of this spring.

Centennial Hogenson will be mistress of ceremonies and music will be furnished by A. Stanley Kosso at the organ and Murk Phelan, who will sing several selections.

A table featuring an interesting collection of all wedding photographs and souvenirs will also be on display.
