

Local Entries Place In Collie Show

Bert G. Johnston of Lakeside road and Mary Margaret Bower of Bloomfield Hills were two local people who received awards for their dogs at the Midwest Collie Club of Detroit's show Sunday in Highland Park.

Mary Margaret's collie, "Neva Naughty," took fourth as the limit high entry, while Johnston's "Bruce-a-ton," took first as an entry in the class for American bred males.

19-2-30 Group To Have Scavenger Hunt Tonight

By Lis Giles

If someone knocks on your door this evening and asks if they may borrow a mustache cup that dear old grandpop used, or the 1890 version of a chapeau that a modern girl will actually admit was ridiculous, have patience with 'em. These people will be scouring our city for the next-to-the-impossible, and the reason is the 19-2-30 group's scavenger hunt scheduled for this evening.

Everyone is asked to be at the Community House promptly at eight o'clock as Roger Cummings can have the lists, groups, and all that goes with this type of hunt and everyone on his way. The evening plans to be one packed with plenty of amusement and why not, with such capable people on Roger's committee as Betty McClelland, Dan Ollshneider, Tom Cummings and Bob Stites?

Since Nov. 5 and continuing until the 15th, every person in the 19-2-30 assemblage has been racking their upper stories for a new name. The re-naming is being run as a bona-fide contest with prizes in all. Any number of entries may be submitted; in case of a tie, the early bird'll get the prize. The Judges will be the November committee as listed above.

Last Tuesday it was unanimously decided to start a fund. Thusly was the sum of fifty cents annually passed into financial history. Ginny Walsh has the task of collecting dues and keeping the books straight.

Some new faces seen enjoying themselves last week were Helen Gillespie, Gene Richardson, Jim Austerlione, Garth Pearsall and Rudy Rank. Some of the older members seen were Nell Wakefield, Punch Skuse, Barb MacQueen, Lottie Stewart, Ida Martin, Alice Roulet, Betty King, Dick Lott, Bill Rosen, Bob Moody, Jim Herzberg, Bill Match, George Bagall, Homer and Louie Corsi and lots of others. Everyone seemed anxious about the rumored hard-times party, and our ambitious committee has given some hints concerning a kangaroo court presiding on that night.

Bloomfield Parents Held Tea, Open House Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon the Parent-Teacher Club of Bloomfield Village School held a tea between three and five at the home of Mrs. A. A. Appleford on Broadway boulevard honoring Mrs. William Larson, who is moving to Arizona.

Mrs. Howard Green, president, presided at the tea table which was decorated for the occasion with pink and white chrysanthemums.

At 8 o'clock that evening the group held open house at the school in observance of National Education Week. The meeting provided an opportunity for old friends to become acquainted with new members and teachers. Classrooms were open so that guests could observe the kind of work being done by the pupils.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland was the main speaker of the evening and Frances Curtin, school nurse, Alice Worel, speech correctionist, and Carolyn Loughran, visiting nurse, gave parents an idea of their work in the school.

This year's officers for the group are Mrs. Howard Green, president; Mrs. Mark Kraus, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Gassaway, secretary; Mrs. Jack Beardsley, treasurer, and Mrs. John Oster, historian.

Oakland Hills Women To Enjoy Card Party

A pre-Thanksgiving card party will be the feature of Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20, for the women of Oakland Hills Country Club, who will gather there at 12:30 for luncheon and then have an afternoon of bridge and other games.

In charge of the party is Mrs. W. Carleton Scott, and assisting her are Mrs. Lee De Grant, Mrs. Hal H. Houghton and Mrs. Wallace R. Ivers. Mrs. Damon S. Gall is social chairman.

Deadline for Club News is at 12 noon Monday. The Society deadline remains at 5 p.m. Tuesday. Remember—the early bird gets space.
