Berliners Really 'Wearing It Out'

There's no shortage of work for tailors in postwar Berlin, but they've got to be mighty handy at patching and remodeling, as this picture indicates. Notice the worn garments waiting for this tailor's needle—and absence of new cloth.

Latrup Townsite News

By LILLIAN DIEDERICH

National Education Week was the occasion which brought out more than 150 guests when Annie Latrup school held "Open House" Thursday evening. Parents visited the classrooms and made the acquaintance of the teachers.

Mrs. J. Holmes and Mrs. Ned Schwimmer presided at the tea table which was centered with a bronze bowl of yellow baby mums and at either end were tall yellow tapers in bronze holders. Mrs. Caroline Bates was chairman. She was assisted by the teachers.

Mrs. Fred Purdy of Latrup boulevard entertained eight Townsiders at a bridge luncheon last Thursday.

Three Flags Chapter, DAR, held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Harold R. Hill opened her home in Huntington Woods. Preceding the meeting dessert and coffee were served.

Speaker of the day was Mrs. Fred R. Johnson, who gave an enlightening talk on "Current Legislative Issues."

Mrs. William Waddell, formerly of the townsite and now of Vinewood avenue, Birmingham, has her first little granddaughter, Sally Jane Cannon, of Birmingham.

born Nov. 11, at Henry Ford hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Porter and brother, Wally Porter, of Dolores avenue, were hosts to 13 guests Saturday evening. A mid-night supper was served following a series of games.

Ways and means committee of Women's Club announces that the square dance held Friday evening was a great success. More than 200 attended.

Mrs. D. A. Wayne of Midland arrived Tuesday to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell of San Quentin drive. She will remain with the family over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mrs. R. E. Elias was tendered a surprise birthday luncheon Tuesday at the home of her immediate neighbor, Mrs. Lee R. Baker of Saratoga boulevard. Those attending besides the hostess and guest of honor, Mrs. Robert Marshall, Mrs. Edwin Blake, Mrs. Carl Bush, Mrs. Kenneth Crow, Mrs. John Diederich and Mrs. Geo. Burnham.

"Do you know your America?" We are happy to report that a Southfield Township neighbor, Mrs. James V. Hart, 20266 Farmstead, won a radio for herself Monday when in response to a phone call she gave the correct answer on the "Your America" radio broadcast.

The question was, "Who was the commander-in-chief of the US Army during the Battle of New Orleans?" Her correct answer was "President Andrew Jackson."

A-Hunting We Will Go
Leo Golear of Santa Barbara drive got a 10-point buck! Lyle Brown of San Quentin drive brought home a deer.

R. E. Elias is hunting with 10 companions in Northern Michigan. Arthur Mitchell left Wednesday evening for the North. Dr. Ford Daines and William White have donated their "red caps and coats."

Bob Mitchell and his father, Arthur Mitchell, attended the father and son banquet at Royal Oak high school Wednesday. The football squad were guests of honor.

Will Remove Tree

Removal at city expense of a 5-inch hard maple on a lot at the corner of Madison and Oxford streets has been approved by the City Commission. City Manager Donald C. Rebert has been directed to see if the tree couldn't be used elsewhere, rather than have it destroyed.

Clod Deflectors

A new wrinkle in equine accessories, for keeping clods and flying dirt out of a horse's eyes, is worn by Royal Hustle at Hipodromo de las Americas, Mexico City. Mrs. George Ellis is trainer.
