Afternoon Ceremony Unites James W. Gunn and Bride

All Saints Episcopal Church in Detroit was decked with white chrysanthemums, snapdragons, and carnations for the 5 p. m. ceremony Friday which united in marriage Joanne Mitchell and James W. Gunn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Mitchell of Detroit and the groom is the son of Mrs. Ford L. Gunn, formerly of Dorchester road, and the late Mr. Gunn. The Rev. Burton S. Levering was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a two-piece tan wool costume suit of wool, made with long sleeves and brown head-line around the top. Her hat was of matching tan trimmed with brown plumes, and she wore a corsage of brown orchids.

Carolyn Mitchell, as her sister's only attendant, chose a two-piece dark brown, faille suit, with a jabot matching her green orchids. She wore a brown matching hat and champagne gloves.

Best man was John Summers of Detroit, and ushers were Glenn Robinson, Carter Chamberlain and Rob Barnes, all Detroiters, and Thomas Ryan of Flint.

Following the ceremony, there was a buffet dinner and reception served to the guests at the Detroit Athletic Club, where Mrs. Mitchell received her guests in a two-piece sheer gray wool dress, accented by a trim of dark gray and duobonnet beads around the neck and banding the long sleeves. Her hat was of gray feathers and her flowers, purple orchids.

Mrs. Gunn chose for her son's wedding a black silk tunic worn over a black wool skirt. Her hat was also black, with burnt orange trim. Her flowers were blended green orchids.

When the new Mr. and Mrs. Gunn left by plane for New York City, Mrs. Gunn had added a brief tan jacket to her ensemble and topped it with a beaver coat.

Following a brief honeymoon, they will make their temporary home at the Art Center Apartments in Detroit.
