Rev. and Mrs. Crump Honored on 25th Wedding Anniversary

Members of the First Baptist Church gathered in the church parlors last Saturday evening to honor the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Melvyn W. Crump, on their wedding anniversary.

While the guests were assembling, Mrs. Walter Turner played several piano selections, and the evening's program began with the singing of some of the pastor's favorite hymns in a song fest led by Raymond Peck.

Clark Davison, a member of the junior department of the Sunday School, played piano selections. Mrs. H. V. Hobbie read an original poem written especially for the occasion, and Ray Wray sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile."

An amusing "take-off" on radio quiz programs, with Leland Bunyon as quiz master, was the means used to present Dr. and Mrs. Crump with gifts, representing each anniversary from the first through the 15th, and then the 20th. The paper anniversary was represented by a handmade greeting card which was signed by all the guests. The card was the work of E. A. Schipfel.

Gift Is Presented

Mr. Peck, on behalf of the church members, presented the honored guests with a chest of flat silver.

The beautifully appointed tea table was centered by a four-tier cake decorated with white roses and silver leaves and topped with a silver horseshoe embossed with the figure "25." Silver candelabra with white candles stood at either side of the cake.

Mrs. Peter McKay and Mrs. Melvyn Crump, Jr., wearing twin coronas of white beehive mums, presided at the tea table. Quilt were in charge of the tea, while Mrs. Merritt Olsen and Mrs. J. C. Akers planned the program. George Jackson was master of ceremonies.

Anyone who would like to learn to knit or to design simple knitted articles may join the class which meets Thursday evenings with Mrs. Harold Chalk in charge.

Mrs. Roberta Sutton, of the Community House commissary, will teach plain or fancy cooking, and baking in a class to be held Friday evenings.

Contract bridge classes for beginners and advanced players are being organized, and the time and date will be announced later.
