Bateman-Parrish Rites Read At Presbyterian Church

Martha Wilson Parrish, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Isaac Wesley Parrish of Milan, Mich., became the bride of William H. Bateman, Jr., son of Mr.

long-pointed sleeves, shirred to the elbow, and the back of the waistline, where a large bow topped the full skirt, which fell into a long, straight train. Matching loops trimmed the low waistline and shoulder seams and edged the corners of the bodice. In place of the long veil of sheer illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Elaine Parrish, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white tulle with insets of lace, carried a white colonial nosegay, and wore matching mums in her hair.

Mrs. Carl H. Baxter of Rockford, Ill., as her sister's matron-of-honor, and Susan Patterson, another niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, wore gowns of royal blue crepe with full skirts and cap sleeves. Long matching lace mitts and headresses of plumes completed their ensembles. They carried cascade bouquets of Johanna Hill roses and lily-of-the-valley with tulle and ribbon.

The bride's other attendants were Mrs. Melvin Robert Smith of Ann Arbor, Mrs. John C. Kaser of Owosso, Mich., Mrs. Francis C. Kaser of Yonkers, N. Y., and Mrs. Irwin A. Gustafson of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the groom. They also wore gowns of royal blue crepe, and carried cascade bouquets of yellow mums and roses.

Charles D. Briggs of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man and guests were seated by Allen K. Parrish of Birmingham, last W. Parrish of St. Anne, Ill., brothers of the bride, Major John Wright of Ann Arbor, and L. Byron Strandberg of Chicago.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Parrish wore a gown of wine velvet, while Mrs. Bateman, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black crepe. Mothers wore coronas of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Community House. After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple will make their home in Chicago.

The Philathea class of the First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Goldsmith of Brookwood court Monday, Nov. 11, at 8 p. m.

The regular monthly meeting of Redeemer Lutheran Ladies' Missionary Society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the church lounge.

Mrs. Raymond Engel, Mrs. Floyd Brown, and Mrs. Clifford Hunt will be hostesses to the group. Plans will be completed for the annual Christmas luncheon and mart to take place Dec. 4 in the church parlors.

Mrs. Charles D. Hawley of Lionhurst road will entertain Miss Cecilia Jelinek, teacher, and mothers of Quanton School's fifth grade students at a tea tomorrow from 3:30 to 5 p. m. Mrs. Hawley will be assisted by Mrs. J. S. McDaniel.

The Philomene Club will meet next Tuesday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. Sharp on Chester street for one o'clock luncheon followed by a business meeting and sewing.

The annual convention of the 17th district of the WCTU will meet at the Calvin Presbyterian Church, Grand River and Hubbell avenues, Friday, Nov. 8, at 10 a. m. A large Birmingham delegation is expected.

The November meeting of the Child Study Club will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. R. H. Bechtold of Pleasant street.

Mrs. Vivian Puke, critic literature teacher, will speak on children's books and books for Christmas.

Ruth Millis Weds Thomas Allen At Morning Service

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Barton officiated at the wedding service Saturday morning in Holy Name Church when Thomas Robert Allen took as his bride Ruth Mary Millis, Mrs. and Mr. Robert Allen of Riverwood are the parents of the groom, while the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Millis of Vineyard road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory satin with a high round neckline and bertha of rosepoint lace, and long, pointed sleeves. There was a slight sweep to the full skirt.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of ivory satin, and she carried a white prayer book with clusters of white roses and stephanotis.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Duane Zemper of Howell, Mich., who wore ice-blue faille, as did bridesmaid Peg Quirk of Flint. Both carried orchid-pink mums and had matching headresses.

Best man was John Porter of Cincinnati, Ohio, and ushers were James Rowland and Richard Allen, brother of the groom, both of Birmingham.

A reception for two hundred guests at the Community House followed the ceremony, and Mrs. Millis received her guests in an afternoon dress of aqua crepe, while Mrs. Allen chose gray crepe. Both wore coronas of gardenias.

When the couple left for a motor trip to the Smoky Mountains, the bride was wearing a gray-velvet suit, brown accessories and her bridal flowers.

On their return they will make their home in Detroit.
