

City, School Board Act To Create New Recreation Board

Creation of a separate recreation board for the city of Birmingham moved nearer reality Monday evening when the City Commission approved a resolution in intent for the establishment of such a board.

A further step is expected when the Board of Education meets next Tuesday evening, for it is most likely that the same resolution of intent will be approved by School Board members.

Mayor Milton Mallerder told fellow commissioners Monday night that he and City Manager Donald C. Egbert had met with Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent of Birmingham schools, to determine some basis upon which both the School Board and the City Commission could agree for the fuller development of a city recreation program.

Plans for the rally to initiate the fall season of the Birmingham branch of the YMCA and to introduce the "Y" new secretary are near completion, according to Dr. John C. Smith, president of the Detroit office.

While Birmingham will become a branch of the Detroit YMCA, it will continue to operate through a Birmingham board of directors, but will have the advisory assistance of the Detroit office.

The declaration of intent adopted by the city Monday evening, and which undoubtedly will be adopted by the Board of Education, would set up a recreation board of five persons, with one member to represent each of the five wards.

When the teachers institute convenes next Tuesday evening, the City Commission will meet in the Masonic Temple in Birmingham to discuss the proposed recreation board.

City's Veterans Declare Selves Against Bonus

City Manager Donald C. Egbert has announced that he is negotiating with the OPA to establish a rental program for the Quonset huts now under construction.

With the completion date of the hut construction tentatively set for Dec. 1, we are attempting to get the details of the management program and selection of hut occupants out of the way so that those selected may move in immediately, Egbert stated.

The major majority of the members of the Birmingham Veterans' Organization voted to turn thumbs down in the coming November election on the State amendment to the Federal Reserve Act.

Unidentified Bird Makes Feast of 31 Take Goldfish

The food shortage is temporarily over in Bloomfield Hills at least for one big brownish-colored bird which has been the victim of Col. and Mrs. Chester P. McCormick, 1280 Cranbrook, last Saturday and ate up all but four of their 35 goldfish in an outdoor fish pond.

Mr. McCormick said he had seen the bird fly over the grounds early in the day but it was not until Saturday morning when he saw it flying across the yard again a few hours later, she went out to investigate.

The fish had been taken by the McCormicks and would come from the edge of the pool and nibble at their fingers. Since the winged intruder was not seen again, the McCormicks were convinced that the bird was a goldfish.

Sieger Will Speak At Public Rally Here Monday Night

Chimaging a strenuous day's tour through Southern Oakland County, Kim Sieger will speak at a public rally to be held in the Birmingham Community House at 8:30 o'clock this coming Monday evening, October 14th.

The Republican candidate for governor will be introduced to his audience by Howard R. Estes, State representative for the 3rd District of Oakland County, who is also chairman of the meeting.

Other persons who will be on the platform with Sieger will be Dr. John Wood, member of the Republican State Central Committee, and Mrs. Forbes S. Hascall, who is in charge of Republican women's activities for Birmingham.

Estes presumed that most of the county Republican candidates would be present. He indicated that it was probable that George Donahoe, incumbent 17th Congressional District Representative running for reelection this fall, would also be at the meeting.

Sieger's Birmingham speech will be the culmination of a big day's activities through Southern Oakland County, which will take him on a tour of the 3rd, 4th and 5th representative districts.

His Monday morning schedule includes an automobile trip through Farmington, Novi, South Lyons, New Hudson, Milford, Wallendale, Franklin and Ferndale.

Afternoon and evening will take him into Westland, Pontiac, where he will attend a tea for public women—with the windup of his day being his speech in Birmingham.

Daughter Susan Concludes Her Observations of Kim Sieger's Campaign Methods

(Editor's Note: Here is the second and last article by my 23-year-old daughter, Susan, on her recent trip with Kim Sieger and his campaign party.)

This is the editor's daughter speaking. Last week we covered the Sieger campaign trip from Reed City up to Traverse City. It was in the latter city that I was introduced to the two new men with whom you were promised you would hear about.

The first was a demonstration of Kim Sieger's remarkable memory, and the other, participation in a behind-the-scenes political discussion of the problems that meet a candidate for governor.

It was again at a banquet; this time the county officials and private citizens were gathered in the private dining room of the Park Place Hotel at Traverse City. Mr. S. met a goodly number of those present and then went to his place on the head table.

At the head table, Victor Ulrich, course of the dinner, he asked the county chairman, seated at his left, the names of the various guests and some of the background data regarding them.

Switch In Drivers Costs Lot Of Money, Two Boys Discover

Switching places as driver while a car is in motion is a costly procedure, two Birmingham boys discovered in Justice John Gaffill's court on Oct. 23 morning.

Fined $75 and sentenced to two days in jail for reckless driving on Oct. 23, the boys were identified as Francis H. Delahanty, 49, 248 S. Adams road. Replied that he was driving while the car was being driven by Tom B. Spiegel.

Spiegel admitted before Justice Gaffill that he had exchanged places with Delahanty while the car was in motion in order that Delahanty, whose license had been suspended for 15 days by a Pontiac court on a reckless driving charge, would not be driving when the vehicle was being driven by the car.
