

Artists' Market Tea To Be Co-Hosted By Two Local Women

Mrs. Edward E. Rothman of Linden road and her sister, Mrs. Harry L. Winston of Aspen road, will be co-hostesses at a tea for members and friends which will open the Detroit Artists' Market for the season.

Among those assisting the two sisters will be several local people, including Mrs. Morgan Douglas, Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Mrs. Graham John Graham, Mrs. Albert Kahn, Mrs. Edgar R. Thom, Albert Christ-Janner, Zoltan Sepehy, and Albert De Salls.

The affair will be a barn dance and will take place at Forest Hills Country Club Oct. 26. Chairman of the dance, which will benefit both scholarship funds, is Mrs. James Bragaw. Her assistants are Mrs. Clemson Page, Mrs. John Adamson, and Mrs. Jules DeBeauvoir.

Two Groups Plan Halloween Dance

At a board meeting of the Kingswood alumnae group held last Thursday in the home of the new president, Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas, Jr., of Evergreen road, plans were made for the dance to be held Halloween week end in conjunction with the Cranbrook alumnae.

On the Cranbrook roster are Robert Porter, Frank W. Werneken, Morgan D. Douglas, Jr., and Paul Connolly. Members of the Kingswood board are Mrs. Maxwell E. Fead, vice-president; Mrs. C. Christie Jones, treasurer; Mrs. William Hinson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. David N. Viger, recording secretary; Mrs. John Tugler, former president of the board; Mrs. Harvey Shuler, Mrs. Edward Hazzett; Mrs. William Rose and Mrs. Edward Lerchen.

Replacing Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Viger on the board are Betty Lee Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Snyder. Other events scheduled on the alumnae calendar are the Christmas dance, for which Maxine Appel is chairman, and the Christmas luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Duffy Honeyymooning In The East

Saturday evening at 7:30 was the time chosen for the wedding ceremony uniting Loretta Mae Hall and Cyril W. Duffy. Loretta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hall of Watkins street, while her parents are the Fred Duffys of Pontiac.

The Rev. Arnold F. Runkel performed the double ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church, which was decorated with white flowers, candelabra and palms for the occasion. Soloist was Ann Meyer of Pontiac.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and push-up sleeves on the light bodice, and a skirt ending in a court train. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a cap with a scalloped satin band. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis, centered with gardenias, from which fell streamers.

Maid-of-honor Charlotte Hall of Birmingham, sister of the bride, wore a dress of dusty pink, which had a fitted bodice of raw silk, cap sleeves, a round neck, and a chiffon skirt. She wore long gloves matching the gown, and her bouquet was of deep blue chrysanthemums and cornflowers.

Mrs. Ernest S. Hogan and Donna Crant, both of Pontiac, were bridesmaids, and their gowns were also dusty pink. Their flowers were of a lighter blue shade of chrysanthemums and cornflowers.

Best man was Raymond Duffy of Pontiac, the groom's brother, and seating the guests were another brother, Vernell Duffy, Warren Haife of Pontiac, and Fred and Richard Hall of Birmingham, brothers of the bride.

For the reception, held in the Community House immediately after the rites, Mrs. Hall chose a two-piece afternoon dress of leaf-green print which was made with three-quarter-length sleeves and bow at the V-neckline. Her accessories were brown, and her gloves were yellow tereoses with mums.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Duffy wore a hunter-green gabardine suit, brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow tereoses and mums. When the new couple left on their week's honeymoon in the East, the bride wore a Kelly green wool dressmaker suit, brown accessories and the gardenias from her wedding bouquet.
