Charles Clarke Takes Bride At Recent Afternoon Rites

Martha Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village was the scene chosen for the Saturday afternoon marriage of Isabelle Stinton to Charles Norbert Clarke. Isabelle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald P. Stinton of Cass City, Michigan, while Charles' parents are Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Clarke of Glenhurst drive.

The Rev. Zimmerman of Dearborn's First Presbyterian Church was the officiating pastor, and for the occasion the chapel was decorated with white gladioli and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a gown of white marquisette and taffeta. The tight taffeta bodice had a round neck of marquisette, which ended in an off-shoulder effect. The sleeves were long and pointed, and her full taffeta skirt was fashioned with a court train. The three-quarter length veil of illusion was gathered to a white beaded diadem. The bridal bouquet was of white gardenias, mums and carnations, from which fell long white streamers.

Betty McCallum of Grosse Pointe was maid-of-honor, and her gown was of turquoise taffeta, made with a sweetheart neckline, brief sleeves and a net skirt. Her bridesmaids were net and bronze and yellow baby mums and her bouquet was of the matching flowers.

Bridesmaids were June Ross of Detroit and Beverly Preston of Grosse Pointe, who were in gowns identical to that of the maid-of-honor.

Best man was Robert Sturgeon of Detroit, and seating the guests were Walter L. Fry, Jr. and Robert Hill, both of Birmingham.

At the reception at Dearborn Inn which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Stinton received her guests in a blue-green crepe gown, made with short sleeves and a high neck which had sequins sprinkled over the shoulders and waist. Her accessories were black, and her flowers, white roses.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Clarke chose a gown of brown crepe with a square neckline, long sleeves and draped skirt. Her accessories were gold, and her flowers a corsage of carnations.

When the young couple left on a week's trip to Pennsylvania, the new Mrs. Clarke was wearing a matching ensemble consisting of a green hat and suit, black accessories, and a yellow rose corsage.

On their return, they will make their home in Detroit.

Red Cross To Honor War Brides At Tea

Any war brides living in Oakland county will be made welcome at the tea that has been planned for them by the home service section of the Oakland county chapter of the American Red Cross, it has been announced by Mrs. Truman Eastis of Linden road, chairman of the home service section.

The tea will be an event of Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 29, at 3 o'clock in the Community House.

Quarton Mothers Meetings Outlined

Mrs. Clement Penrose, Jr., of Waddington road entertained the mothers of the morning kindergarten at a desert luncheon at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 22. She was assisted by Mrs. Fielding Yost, Jr.

At this gathering, plan for the coming year were discussed. The proposed amendments to the State constitution were brought to the attention of the mothers and all were urged to attend the "Town Meeting" on Oct. 28 at the Baldwin High School.

Mrs. LeRoy Kiefer explained the "Open Home" which will be held in November for the new mothers.

Mrs. Jonathan Bell of Shiley drive, assisted by Mrs. Edward E. Rothman, was hostess to the mothers of the sixth grade in Miss McHugh's room at Quarton School, at 10 o'clock breakfast held recently in her home.

At this meeting an informal discussion was held concerning the best possible way the mothers could find to cooperate with the teachers, and great interest was shown in the forthcoming legislation pertaining to the schools.

Mrs. Karl Seiffert, president of the Quarton PTA, and Mrs. Kiefer, chairman of the room mothers, were also present at the meeting.

Today at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. James Abbott of Lakeside road will be hostess at a desert luncheon. Her guests will be second grade mothers of Quarton School, and she will be assisted by Mrs. B. G. Netherton. Mrs. Karl Seiffert will pour.

There will be a general discussion concerning the amendments, and Mrs. Seiffert will discuss with the mothers the PTA plans for the coming year.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 29, Mrs. Richard Brown of Kimberly road will entertain the mothers of the afternoon class of Quarton School. This meeting will be held in the coming year.

MR. and MRS. CARL E. HUYETTE of North Woodward avenue will leave the first of November for the Whittier in Detroit, where they will remain for the winter.

Westwood road home of Mrs. Martin L. Butsel.

The purpose of the meeting will be to foster a better acquaintance among the mothers and also to discuss the proposed amendments.
