Tea Planned For Smith Alumnae

Alumnae and friends of Smith College in Northampton, Mass., are raising a large sum of money as a 75th anniversary present to the college.

The money will be used for faculty salaries, scholarships, and for new buildings and additions to older buildings on the campus.

The official opening of the Michigan campaign will begin with a dinner at the Whittier Hotel in Detroit tomorrow evening and the guest speaker will be Herbert Davis, Smith College president.

Local residents attending the 7 p. m. affair will include Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. John K. Ormond, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Eustis, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Handerson, and Mrs. Charles Rust.

Following the president's dinner Friday, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Eustis will be co-hostesses at a tea to be held next Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Eustis home on Linden road.

Guests will be Smith alumnae living in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. Preceding the tea, there will be discussions of the anniversary fund and of the possibility of forming a Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills alumnae group.

Among those present will be Mrs. Harry Hoy, Mrs. Y. C. Smith, Mrs. Maude Gilman, Mrs. Carl Wonnberger, Mrs. E. W. Averill, Mrs. Phyllis Handerson, Mrs. John Judd, Mrs. J. F. Wright, Mrs. Robert Biggers, Mrs. E. A. Schirmer, Mrs. Calvin Dammien, and Mrs. S. S. Pierce.

Smith alumnae new to this area are invited to attend the tea, and Mrs. Colin Campbell of Lakeview drive can offer additional information.

A DINNER THAT'S DIFFERENT

Imagine having dinner in a charming old farmhouse built in 1840. Two big fireplaces lead a cheerful atmosphere. Chilly evenings—dainty furnishings and candle light set the mood for a most prepared and served in true American style.

Bounteous portions—thick, mashed steaks and plump chickens—golden gravy—vegetables raised in our own garden—sheets of home-made rolls right from our oven—raises old-fashioned, courteous service and hospitality.

These are ingredients we mix for your enjoyment—a dinner that's different at Twin Hearth Inn.
