Violeta Andrade Betrothed to Capt. Aldridge

Mr. and Mrs. Julio Andrade of Puritan road announced the engagement of their daughter, Violeta, to Captain James A. V. F. Aldridge, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Aldridge of Leland, Miss. Violeta is a graduate of Baldwin high school and was a member of the June, 1945, class of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. where she was vice-president of her sorority, Gamma Delta Phi. Capt. Aldridge expects to receive his discharge soon after 52 months of service. He served with the 13th Air Force in the Southwest Pacific. Prior to entering the army, he was graduated from military school in Tennessee, and attended Mississippi State College where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. After receiving his discharge, he plans to complete his studies there. No date has been set for the wedding.

Have You Met? . . .

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Crews of 840 Chestnut street? The Crews came here from Detroit. Mr. Crews is a mechanical engineer for General Motors.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. was the time chosen for the wedding rites of Janet Elizabeth Belknap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon V. Belknap of Pontiac, and William Harvey Phett, son of Mrs. Albert J. Scriven of Hawthorne road, and the late Burton Phett.

The Rev. W. H. Marbach officiated at the services at the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac, which was decorated with palms, white gladioli, mums, and candles for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered white marquisette. The deep yolk of the tight bodice was outlined to give an off-shoulder effect, and the sleeves were long and pointed. The full skirt was of net over white satin. The three-quarter length veil of illusion was caught by orange blossoms, and the bouquet was a cascade shower of gardenias and stephanotis.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Gordon E. Reynolds of Pontiac was covered in sleeveless peach taffeta-faille, fashioned with a high neckline, and Dutch pockets were featured on the full wide skirt. She wore matching mits of the dress material.

Bridesmaids Gloria Newman, and Inez MacAdam, both of Pontiac, and Marjorie Phett, sister of the groom, dressed alike in delphinium blue, made like the gown worn by Mrs. Reynolds. They also wore matching mits, and carried cascade bouquets of peach camellias.

Best man was George Gordon of Birmingham, and small Richard Reynolds, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer. Seating the guests were Anthony E. Purman, Jr., and Clyde Bennett, Jr., of Birmingham, Henry Mellon of Detroit, and Gordon E. Reynolds of Pontiac.

Rotunda Inn was the scene of the reception for 150 guests which followed the ceremony. Mrs. Belknap chose a gown of smoke-blue crepe, with drape-front skirt, V-neckline, and wing sleeves. Her hat was ostrich tips, blue and fuchsia, while her flowers were orchids.

For her son's marriage, Mrs. Scriven wore gray satin trimmed in dust rose, a rose feather hat, rose gloves, and orchids.

The young couple left for a motor trip through Montreal and Quebec, and starting out, the new Mrs. Phett wore a two-piece suit of aqua wool gabardine, and brown accessories. On their return, they will make their home in Detroit.
