Little Sugar Required For Pickle Canning

Crisp, juicy pickles add much interest to meals and this is the pickle-making season in Michigan. Cucumbers of all sizes are now available and Roberta Herney, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State College, suggests the homemaker try a few of the varieties that require little or no sugar.

Tangy dill pickles and old-fashioned cucumber slices are two good examples of popular pickles almost everybody likes. Either cucumbers or green tomatoes may be used for the dill pickles and they require no sugar. For mildly-sweet cucumber slices, only one-half cup of sugar is necessary for an entire peck of cucumbers.

There are hundreds of recipes for making all kinds of pickles, but Miss Herney recommends the U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin AWI-103, "Pickle and Relish Recipes" to those who have no recipes to follow. It is available from the county extension office or from the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Cucumbers and green tomatoes are best when they're pickled within 24 hours of picking. A good, clear standard vinegar, free from sediment should be used. And if you're using grandmother's recipe you should remember that standard vinegar today is stronger than that made 15 to 20 years ago. That may tend to make your pickles a little sour, unless the vinegar is diluted.

Whole spices keep their flavor longer and are better for pickle making than ground spices. Tie them in a sack to cook with the pickles, but do not pack them in the jars because they will turn the pickles dark.

A.A.U.W. Schedules Group Meetings; Engages Walter Duranty to Speak Here

Old and new members of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women are looking forward to the first meeting of the year, which will be in the form of a get-together luncheon Wednesday, Sept. 11, at 1 p. m. in the Community House.

Members will not only get re-acquainted with one another, but also with Mrs. William E. Hub-hard, state president from Flint, who will be present to clear up some of the mysteries of the organization.

Mrs. Helen Eckenrode will be chairman of the day, in the absence of Mrs. Betty McCall. Additional information concerning the luncheon can be obtained from Mrs. Eckenrode.

Asked to Bring Food

At this luncheon, collection will be made of articles to be sent to A.A.U.W. members in Europe. Several previous parcels have been sent, and the grateful thank-you letters received are a spur to further efforts.

Members are asked to bring to this September luncheon-meeting canned or dehydrated foods, and personal necessities such as soap, tooth powder, and so on. A committee, headed by Mrs. William Kugel, will attend to packaging and mailing.

At this first meeting, new study opportunities are to be announced in addition to the established classes. Mrs. Melba Marlette will address members Thursday, Sept. 13, at 10 a. m. at the Community

House. Her topic will be "How to Review a Book."

Duranty to Speak
Another study group in creative writing will be held Sept. 19 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Ray Palmer, of East Maple road.

A.A.U.W. is again participating in the Community Lecture series. Walter Duranty will speak here Nov. 19.

Other A. A. U. W. activities to be announced now are the book review groups, beginning late in September, the child study group and the international relations group, which will start in October. Mrs. J. E. Williams is chairman of the annual book sale to be held Oct. 14 through 19 at the Baldwin Library, where contributions may be left.

BUT MOTHER—YOU
SAVED FAT DURING THE WAR!

Lady—the grease that you are scraping into the garbage would keep someone abroad from starvation! Conserve all fats and oils. Save every drop of used cooking fat, turn it over to the meat dealer for four cents a pound. Salvaged fat helps make more soap for you—more food fats available for famine areas.

Uncle Sam says—Help lick the soap shortage! Don't neglect fat saving. Larger supplies of soap depend on larger turn-ins of used fat. More used fat for industry means more soap and other products on store shelves.
