Girl Scouts To Renew Activities

Once again Girl Scout leaders, assistants and troop committees are planning the activities of Birmingham Scouts for the fall and winter season. "World Friendship" is the goal to be aimed for by the 517 girls registered in this area.

As a refresher, adults in Scouting look forward from year to year to "Homecoming." This year it will be Friday, Sept. 13, at the Community House from 9:45 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The day's program will begin with the regular council meeting to which all adults registered in Scouting are invited.

The Community House will serve luncheon and the afternoon session will follow. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. George B. Finch.

The first hour will be devoted to training classes for old and new leaders. The closing program will be given by Mrs. C. H. Rice and Mrs. William Merrill, who will demonstrate with a group of girls how dramatics can be used in the Scout program.

A.A.U.W. Sponsors Writing Group

Hidden talent which Birmingham may not have known it possessed, was brought to light last year with the inception of the creative writing group of the American Association of University Women.

This class, which will continue this year, was organized in October, 1945, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ray A. Palmer and met twice monthly during the year.

Each member brought and read her production, and all shared in criticisms of a highly constructive nature.

These meetings have proven so stimulating and helpful that this year the members extend an invitation to others interested to join the group.

Mrs. Melba Mariette, local writer, whose new book "Tomorrow Will Be Monday" is attracting considerable attention, has promised to assist the group, and will be present at the inception of this year's class.

This will be held Sept. 19, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ray Palmer of East Maple road.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Palmer or Mrs. William Milligan of Fairfax road, president of the Birmingham A. A. U. W.
