Charter Members Recite History of Exchange Club

Commemorating the 26th anniversary of Exchange and also observing the 23rd year of the local club, the Exchange Club of Birmingham enjoyed a program staged by the active charter members at a recent meeting.

The National Exchange Club grew out of an initial meeting of a single club in Detroit on March 27, 1911, and has expanded into a nation-wide organization with local clubs in cities and towns from coast to coast.

The local club held its first meeting on Feb. 12, 1924, and received its charter on April 15 of the same year, and is believed to be the oldest service club in Birmingham.

Describes Village Life

The charter members who conducted the recent meeting were: Fred Douglass, who acted as toastmaster, Ralph Wilson, Dr. O. O. Beck, Robt. Chissus and Harry Starr.

Ralph Wilson told of the foundation and growth of Exchange, with national headquarters at Toledo, Ohio, and of incidents leading up to the formation of the Birmingham club.

Harry Starr recited early club statistics, the charter members, the early officers and activities of the club in the '20s.

Otto Beck described Birmingham as a town at the time the club was organized, the shade trees on Woodward avenue, early real estate deals that brought unheard of prices in these parts, and other amusing incidents including the old speed traps that would get a driver a ticket for speeding between here and Detroit if he went as fast as 30 miles an hour.

Robert Chissus discussed early building growth of Birmingham, reciting population figures and showing interesting pictures of some of the older landmarks.

E. W. Osborne, also an active charter member, was unable to attend the meeting. Ralph Moulthrop, charter member and second president of the club but no longer active, was a guest at the meeting.

This meeting also inaugurated a new movement on the part of Michigan Exchange clubs, with the introduction of Baldwin students "Chuck" Murray and Drayton McClelland as Junior Exchangites.

Guests for One Month

They will be guests of the club at the weekly luncheon meetings for one month and will be followed by two more Baldwin seniors at the end of that time. This plan will be followed with two new boys being chosen each month.

The committee in charge of this activity will be Rev. George Rentschler, Manley Bailey and James Peabody, who will cooperate with Ross Wagner, Baldwin High School principal, in the the choice of boys.

The purpose of Junior Exchange is to give recognition to outstanding senior boys and at the same time to give the boys an insight into the operation of a service club.
