WALNUT LAKE SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Last week the upper room went to Convention Hall in Detroit to view the Travel Show where all the places they've ever longed to visit were in colorful booths of pictures and information.

Five minutes after we were in the building we discovered David Chalmers and Peter Thomas sitting at the food bar eating hot dogs and drinking pop.

They hurried over to ask if we were having as much fun as they were. In the movie theatre the kids were having trouble keeping their balloons down to stop them from reflecting on the screen.

We watched a television show and realized that the world of tomorrow is practically here.

We have decorated our bulletin board with folders and information of places to visit we acquired at the Travel Show.

In Mrs. Johnson's room the glass in the cupboard doors have taken life with painting of the green grass of spring. The painting is over a coating of cleanser so it can be easily removed.

Herbert Duke is another member who has decorated our bulletin board with an interview and revealed that his ambition is to be an electrician.

He confided that his likes were movies and fishing but among his dislikes girls were at the top of the list. His favorite subject in school is arithmetic and he dreams of attending Michigan State College.

The song "Oh But I Do" and blues so young love color in his estimation. Herbert's favorite sport is baseball and his hobby is model boats.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Dr. Sterba studied in Vienna, the birthplace of psychoanalysis.

He Won't Go Away

"Buskie, the Tappan family's deer at Lockwood, N. Y., just won't go away to the woods and be like other deer. He was found in a nest on his last summer when he was only a few weeks old. He likes the Tappans so well he goes after the cows with the children, eats calf feed with their calf, answers Mrs. Tappan's whistle. She says giving him a cookie inside the house, where he makes himself at home on occasion.

Christ Church Vesper Services Continue with Sunday Program

Seventeenth and eighteenth century music will be presented at the vesper meditation in Christ Church Cranbrook Sunday, April 27, at 4:30 p. m.

A setting of Psalm 42, verse 11, from the Symphonia Sacra of Heinrich Schuetz of soprano, contralto and two violins and organ, will be featured along with the Vivaldi Concerto for three violins and organ. The rest of the meditation will include arie from the B Minor Mass, and St. John Passion of Bach and three organ choral preludes by the same composer.

Leta Chapman and Marion Jewell will be the vocal soloists. The instrumentalists participating will

Store Enlarged, New Merchandise Lines Are Added

Quinn's Inc., Bowers at Hunter Boulevard, have enlarged their store greatly during the past few weeks and have added several new lines of merchandise to their former stock of carpets, blankets and mattresses. The store has been completely rearranged to make new departments possible.

Among the additions was the installation of a new service to the Patsy Weiden, violin; Axel Magnuson, violin; William Casey, flute, and E. W. Hill, organ.

These vesper meditations will be continued through the month of May.

handle and process slip coverings, draperies and wall coverings.

This new merchandise and service department is under the direction of Harold E. Stout who comes to the Quinn establishment from Los Angeles, where he held a position as interior designer and color consultant in the home furnishings department of a department store there. Stout has stated that his department will give every type of service including estimating, measuring and installation.

Another feature of the new Quinn's, Inc. is the partitioning of a portion of the store to appear as rooms in the average home. These rooms are decorated with materials from the new department.

They are furnished with the new line of furniture now being handled by the establishment. The rooms include a living room, dining room, bedroom and spacious hallway.
