Josephine Johnson Wed in Noonday Ceremony

Josephine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Johnson of Pleasant Ridge, became the bride of E. Maynard Zimmerman, son of Mr. T. Ives Zimmerman, Saturday noon in a beautiful ceremony performed by the Rev. Harold E. Towne in St. James Episcopal church.

The church was decorated with white candles in candelabra, palms and baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ice blue satin, the bodice of which was made with a yoke of marquisette, trimmed with seed pearls. It had cap sleeves and was buttoned down the back. The full gathered skirt ended in a court train.

She wore mitts to match her gown, which were bordered with the top with seed pearls. Her finger tip veil was of ice blue illusion, and was held in place by a small clip. She carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums with English lily.

Attendants: Mrs. Nelson C. Johnson, Jr., the matron of honor, wore a gown of champagne pink, marquisette, made with an off-the-shoulder neckline, tight bodice and bouffant skirt. Her marquisette tiara was of matching material and was trimmed with a short veil. She carried pink chrysanthemums. Mrs. Wendell Crook, Mrs. Marie Heath and Sally Gunning, the bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor. The best man was Andrew Spiegel, while Nelson G. Johnson, Jr., Robert Johnson and Edgar Kiddels seated the guests.

Reception held immediately after the ceremony.

It includes the states of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan in its efforts to have the Catholic birth of the church more clearly before both the public and the church members.

The highlight of the conference will come on Sunday, Sept. 14, when the high mass will be celebrated by Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit.

Mrs. J. Rowland Quinn is shown in the photograph. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. Rowland Quinn and is the bride of E. Maynard Zimmerman.

Mrs. E. Maynard Zimmerman, bridegroom, wore a gown of rose crepe. She wore a delphinium blue hat and a corsage of roses and delphinium. The couple left for a honeymoon at Grand Bend, Ont. The bride chose for her traveling costume a brown faille suit, brown hat with a beige feather trim, and brown accessories.
