

Obituary

Mrs. Anna McBride
Mrs. Anna Elizabeth McBride died at her home on Livermore road in Classen Friday, August 1, after a short illness.

She was born in Macomb County on December 7, 1871. She was married to James McBride, who died some years ago. Nearly all her life was spent in Oakland county.

She is survived by four brothers, John, Charles, Edward and Nelson; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Dean and Miss Cora Moore.

Funeral services were held from the Bell Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon, with burial being made in Royal Oak Cemetery.

Joseph E. Reavis
Joseph E. Reavis, about 52, of Linwood, Calif., a former resident of Birmingham, was found dead in his berth Friday morning while en route from Yuma to Tucson, Ariz. Mr. Reavis was returning to his California home after a business trip to Detroit and Washington.

He served in the Navy during the first World War and re-enlisted shortly after hostilities ceased to serve three years in the Pacific area on a mine sweeper. After leaving the Navy he became partner and president of the Detroit Air Compressor Co., selling his interest to re-enter the Navy during World War II. He received a commission as a lieutenant and was ordered to active duty in March, 1943.

His two sons, Phil and Jack, were also in service and in duty in the Pacific area. Mrs. Reavis sold her home here and moved to the West Coast, where the family has since resided. At the close of the war, Mr. Reavis again went into business, which he was conducting at the time of his sudden death.

His wife and sons survive.
Burial will be made today (Thursday) in Alexander, Ind., near Anderson, his birthplace.

Mrs. Gertrude Dewey
Mrs. Gertrude S. Dewey of Detroit died at her home at 9666 Pecarie Tuesday evening after an illness of two months.

She was born in Detroit January 7, 1870, and was employed by the A. L. Hudson company for 30 years. She was a member of St.
Cecilia church and a charter member of the American War Auxiliary.

Survivors are a son, Richard H.
Dewey of North Woodway avenue, Birmingham, a daughter, Mrs. Raymond S. Berry of Detroit, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary services will be held from the Stanley funeral home this evening at 8:30 with funeral services from the Holy Name church at 9:30 Friday morning. Burial will be made in St. Elliott Cemetery in Detroit.

The Old and the New Troopers Gerard Wrocklage (left) and Gordon Grinwicz (right) show the difference between the old and new summer uniforms of the Michigan State Police. The new outfit, worn for the first time this week, is designed for the comfort of the troopers without sacrificing the distinctive appearance of a uniform.

Michigan State Police Officers Don Completely New Summer Uniforms Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills residents now will have the opportunity of glimpsing the first complete summer uniform ever issued to the Michigan State Police when it made its initial appearance this week after a vexatious delay occasioned by material shortages and congestion of orders at garment manufacturing plants.

The new outfit was carefully selected to afford the trooper the utmost in comfort without sacrificing any of the distinctive appearance of a uniform. Up now, changing into summer dress meant no more than swapping a heavy navy blue shirt for one not quite so heavy, but still too warm.

New Type Headgear Greatest departure from custom in police apparel in this part of the country is the new headgear, a wood fiber helmet such as used in the Army. The helmet, medium gray in color, is light in weight, perforated for ventilation and rises on the head on an adjustable leather strap. It actually offers more protection to the officer than the conventional garrison cap as it will withstand a vigorous blow without crushing.

Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who started preparations for issuing the uniform last January, said the department expected it "will give the troopers considerable relief from the summer heat, and we likewise hope the public will find it smart in appearance and a sensible change."

HOW LONG IS A DOG?
This "streamlined" dachshund on the face of the front pig, the dachshunds seem to be enjoying their prefabricated dog house.

Jim Knight, Bob Mansfield Are Newest Summer Recreational Program Champs

Tournaments, sponsored by the Birmingham Recreational Department, and which were staged during the past week, found two new champions.

Jim Knight, 12, of 827 W.
Frank street, defeated Bill Locke, 13, of 774 E. Lincoln, in the finals of the horseshoe pitching contest. The score was 21 to 14.

Bob Mansfield, 12, of 1469 Pierce street, eliminated Gordon Mutch, 830 E. Woodward, in a hand fourth contest to become the city playground shuffleboard champion.

Review of the senior city tennis tournament finds Ann Wilson, Elizabeth Giles and Jane McKee still participating in the women's final.

Doubles Tourney Planned
The men's division is being contested by Ralph Dunbar, Harry Jackson, Don McLesae, Keith McIntire and Wayne Smith.

As soon as this singles tournament is completed a doubles tournament will be held for both Birmingham senior men and women, according to an announcement made this week by Frank Whitney, summer program director.

Whitney explained that entries may be made by calling 825.
The city swimming meet will be held at the Barnum pool at 8 p.m.
This afternoon the playground football kicking and passing contests will be held.

New Type of Award August 13 is the date which has been set for the annual playground water carnival, also to be held at the Barnum pool at 8 p.m.

The city basketball foul shooting and croquet championships will be determined at the Barnum gym playground at 2 p.m. on August 14, Whitney stated.

Something new in the way of making championship awards was demonstrated on the playgrounds last week," said Whitney.

"Frank Conniff of 828 Benna-ville was given a championship award for being the playground champion participator. Frankie, who is only seven years old, has entered all of the 20-and-1 tournaments and so far has been the first to finish last in the contests.

The award was made to pay tribute to his great spirit and good sportsmanship. Another year or two and he will be in there at the top," Whitney declared.

Study Residents to Plan Commission

Charles J. Shain, chairman of the city plan commission, told Yellow Rotarians Monday noon about the various projects which the commission has considered for Birmingham.

In explaining the work of the commission, Shain declared, "A plan commission does not say that certain things must be done, but it does look over a community to recommend what it believes would be to the best interests of that community."

"Master plan," he said, necessarily does not have to be adopted as it is drawn up today.

"It is something to work toward and which must be modified as new circumstances are presented," he said.

"Planning is here to stay and citizens must realize this. The days of better-asker community growth have vanished. People should familiarize themselves with the plans and needs of a community so they can constructively aid its growth," he added.

John S. Townsend
John S. Townsend of Chesterfield road has recently become associated with "Benjamin" and Stephens, Inc., local realtors, according to Jerome F. Benjamin, president of the organization.

Townsend has been connected with various phases of the real estate business for the past 13 years with several Detroit mortgage and loan institutions. For the past year and a half, he has been specializing in the Birmingham area.

What an absurd thing it is to pass over all the valuable parts of a man, and fix our attention on his infirmities.—Addison.

Suggests Lincoln
Speeding Solution

Elmer R. Beers, Jr., lives at 624 W. Lincoln avenue and he is getting tired of having motorists use the street as a speedway.

"This opinion has been conveyed to city commissioners together with a recommendation he feels may tend to control speeds along the thoroughfare.

"Why doesn't the city change the traffic signal at Southdale and Lincoln to a red-green operation rather than the present amber-red method?" he wants to know.

Stating that the light at Pierce and Lincoln lately has been changed to a red-green basis, Beers declared that he has observed many motorists travelling at speeds of 40 and 45 miles per hour either on their way to offices in Detroit or to their homes in the late afternoon.

Operating Both Lights
"I have noticed a number of them do not even stop at South-dale, as required by the signposted lights. They just slow down a bit and then cross over hoping that another car isn't coming along Southfield," he pointed out.

He believed that if both lights were operating at all times, motorists would not be able to get up enough speed before the light required them to stop again.

Commissioners were impressed with his argument and referred his request to the city manager for study and recommendation.

Saturday Is Last
Trip to Tiger Games

August 9th will be the last day for a trip to Briggs stadium this summer and reservations may be made with Ed Kirbert at the YMCA office.

According to Charles Shain, mittee of management, a large group has signed up for this trip.

It will be the last Y trip until school starts. Arrangements are in progress for several Saturday morning trips during September, Kirbert revealed.

year of 1946 without a single
