Leap Year Theme for Future Play

The first hour speech class under the direction of Miss Ruth Hull is planning a play with a leap year theme to be given in assembly in the near future.

In the play will be George Burdick, Dick Groves, Betty Schadt, Mary Ann Hatos, Norm Goddard, John Martin, Dixon Hewlett, Lois Davison, Margie Erwin, Warren Rod, North Carey, Bob Galtley, Marilyn Blauman and Don Wilson.

Second Broadcast for School Choir

The Baldwin Y-Town Club will present its second broadcast of the season tomorrow over station WCAR at 2:45 p.m.

Included on the program will be "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Luther's Cradle Hymn," "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen," "A Joyous Christmas Song," by Gayvert; "The First Noel," "Christ of the Snow," by Gaul; "Christmas Night," by James; and "Joy to the World."

The choir is directed by Victor Ulrich and the Williams Shop is sponsoring the program.

Seven Girls Attend
YWCA Conference

The new Baldwin Y-Town Club attended a World Fellowship Conference in Highland Park last Sunday to decorate the YWCA and promote the interest of World Fellowship.

Donations were presented at the conference by the YWCA organizations for the benefit of World Fellowship and then the groups were joined in friendship for "the hanging of the greens." Barbara Cox was Birmingham's representative.

Other members who attended were Shirley Burnett, Eloise Fowler, Sally Howard, Ann Engel, Geraldine Woolley and Virginia Hood.

Maple Cage Squad
Cut to 25 Players

By Pete Abbrecht

With the invitational tournament at Lincoln Park in progress this week, Coach Lloyd Cooper has cut the Maple varsity cage squad to 25 players, who have been divided into five teams.

Members of the first three teams are forwards Bob Polin, Pat Wall, Dick Murray, Mac Booth, Dick Halpin and Bud Boynton; Centers Duke Layland, Jim McCall, Norm Goddard; guards Bob Littleton, Jim Anderson, Walt Boble, Bob Saffel, George Purdie; and Clayton Joyce.

In three practice games so far, the varsity was decisively beaten twice and lost the other game by one point. These games show that the team is weak on both the offensive and defensive backboards.

The squad will work through the holidays, holding practices daily to get the boys coming in from football in shape.

Coach Cooper sums up his opinion in the statement, "The team is clever but small."

The squad will be coached by John Simonds.

CONCENTRATION PATTER

By Kay Knowlton

Today I almost lost my heart over the cuddly little real fur kittens and dogs (for lots of course) and the small fry can always use more socks and mitts (hand knit) and everyone in the family can use a new blanket from Colonial Shop.

It's fireplace time at Brass Unlimited and you will find "everything your heart desires" for Christmas at this unusual shop. The store is offering a gift that will be sure to please grandma, mother, or even Aunt Hattie—a solid brass Caper Coat hanger, at only $7.75. But they're going fast (I bought one today) and few people can resist such an attractive item. And if you want to let those young marrieds who know pick out the gift of their "husband's" desire, just give them a Gift Certificate from Brass Unlimited—for any amount.

Stage Minstrel Show at Friday Assembly

Laughs were in order last Friday morning when Baldwin boys put on an old-fashioned minstrel show with everything from soft shoe dances to corny jokes.

The show was sponsored by the assembly club and directed by Gerry Hughes, assisted by Victor Ulrich, director of vocal music, and Miss Dorothy Allen, assembly club adviser.

Acted as Mr. Interlocutor were George Burdick, Jim Ensign, Hap Roberg and Steve Camp. The vocal soloists were Jerry Yates, Victor Ulrich, Lee Hanson, Phil Allen and George Townsend.

There were 53 boys in the chorus and the whole show was done in blackface.
