Newlyweds Plan Home in Hills

From Jackson comes the news of the wedding rites of Jean MacDonald Stader, graduate of Kingwood and daughter of the Jerome Staders of Port Lauderdale and Jackson, to Charles Gad Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Robert Harris of Jackson.

After a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, the couple plan to make their home in the Hills. The marriage vows were repeated in St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Jackson Saturday, February 1.

The bride chose an ivory satin bridal gown distinguished by a shirring of rose points lace, which was also used in her tiara, while her attendants were robed alike in cherry red velveteen gowns, with tiny hats of violets and colonial bouquets of violets centered with roses. The bride's bouquet was of calla lilies.

The reception was held at the Hotel Hayes, after which the newlyweds left for their honeymoon.

How many little BTUs have you in your home?

YOUR HOME, and everybody else's, needs BTUs . . . the more, the better. Because it's these little BTUs (British Thermal Units, if you want to be formal) that heat your home. They're the only thing that can heat it, for they're the international measuring stick that determines how much heat is being produced by your heating plant.

Luckily for the people of this area, 90% of its homes are heated by COAL, which produces more BTUs than less satisfactory fuels. To satisfy yourself on this important point—especially if you're considering conversion from coal to some other fuel—do this: Ask your coal retailer what the normal output of BTUs is for your present furnace or stoker. Then ask the salesman who is urging you to convert to his system whether it can match the number of BTUs you are getting from coal. And make him prove it.

We think that your conclusion will be that, as always, coal is the most satisfactory fuel, by this yardstick as by all the others. And here's a valuable tip: to get even more BTUs from your present plant, take advantage of the modern developments in heating aids, such as stokers and new heat control devices. Also plan on getting your furnace or stoker cleaned this spring. You'll find that BTUs thrive and multiply with a little attention and encouragement.

What made Greyhound Grow?

...giving the people good transportation...at low cost...and lots of it!

From puppyhood, Greyhound grew on one good idea: to build a new, "American-style" travel system for THE PEOPLE.

Not mail...not freight...but PEOPLE.

The thing Greyhound knows best is how to get people to the places they want to go...at the times they want to go...at prices they can afford.

And Greyhound does this for more cities, towns, villages and corners than any other transportation system.

What's more, Greyhound makes this "American-style" travel friendly, easy, convenient...stopping in the heart of big cities...at the drug store across from the city hall...or at Pete Jones' farm, if that's where Pete wants to get off.

Why do the people like Greyhound? There's your answer: good transportation...at low cost...and lots of it.
