

Repeat Vows Saturday in Afternoon Service

A profusion of mixed flowers and white tapers adorned the altar of the Redeemer Lutheran Church for the double ring ceremony which united Eileen Barbara Moerspell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Moerspell of Southfield road, and Gerald R. Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pace of Commerce. The Rev. Otto G.

Schultz of the Grace Lutheran Church in Pontiac performed the service, and the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Norbert Schwartz of Utica.

The bridal robes were of white with a satin bodice and a beaded sweetheart neckline. The full marquisette skirt of her gown fell into a slight train, and the finger-tips of tulle was caught up by clusters of orange blossoms. Tiny freesia on white streamers fall from the lavender orchid and white carnation corsage which she carried on a white prayerbook.

Mrs. Louis Sluzas of Utica, the bride's matron of honor, wore sea green faille with matching gloves. Her dress was fashioned with a bustle effect and had a slight train. The only other attendant, Mrs. Alfred Studer of Royal Oak, chose a white jersey gown trimmed in gold. Both attendants wore garlands of pink and white carnations in their hair and carried bouquets of yellow tea roses.

Warren Schwartz, cousin of the bride from Utica, was best man, with Francis Thibodeau of Commerce, Wilfred Schwartz of Utica and Charles Arndust of Birmingham as ushers.

Mrs. Norbert Schwartz, aunt of the bride, and the groom's mother both chose black afternoon frocks for the wedding, and both wore corsages of gardenias.

A reception dinner at Devon Gables followed the ceremony. A brown gaboridine suit with brown accessories, a Norwegian blue coat and an orchid from the bridal bouquet completed the bride's going-away ensemble. The couple plan to wait until summer for their wedding trip to the Canadian Rockies.

If all the net profits of all the manufacturing industries were added to the employer's wages, the increase would amount to less than 10 per cent.

Program Tonight Opens Methodist Lenten Series

Dr. Weldon Crossland of the Ashbury Methodist Church, Rochester, N. Y., tonight will inaugurate the annual Lenten series of mid-week services sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

The special Lenten services will be on consecutive Thursday evenings at 7:30 p. m. in the church, and a song service with special music will comprise part of each program.

To open the series at the special service tonight, Dr. Crossland, former Methodist pastor of churches in Detroit and Pontiac, will preach a recorded sermon by Dr. Marten S. Rice, late pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Detroit.

Other speakers on the series are well-known in this area and will present challenging subjects for Lenten meditation, according to the Rev. Arnold Runkel, First Methodist pastor.

Dr. Thomas Pryor of the First Methodist Church, Royal Oak, will speak at the March 6 service, and Dr. Chester McPheeters, minister of the Metropolitan Methodist Church of Detroit will be here for the March 13 program.

The Rev. James Wright, associate minister of the First Methodist Church, will preach at the March 20 service and Dr. Warner Cole of the Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit, will appear for the Mar. 27 service.

Maudy Thursday communion services, April 3, will be a candle-light service of the cross.

SCF 'Bundle Day' Held Yesterday in Birmingham Schools

"Bundle Day" was yesterday in the Birmingham Schools, with many school children bringing in parcels of clean, serviceable clothing and wearable shoes to be packed today and shipped directly overseas under the auspices of the Save the Children Federation.

Mrs. Winton J. Kelly, 486 Westwood drive, was appointed coordinator of the "Bundle Day," by Mrs. Rudolf Keesch, president of the Birmingham branch of the Federation. At each school an SCF member today will direct the final packing and shipment of the bundles to the New York shipping center.

Any serviceable clothing, baby's, children's or adults, will be picked up by a "Bundle Day" worker if Mrs. Kelly is contacted.

Completes Primary

Paul A. Peck, aviation cadet in the Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peck, 584 Hanna road, recently completed his primary and basic instrument flight training at the Naval Air Training Base, Corpus Christi, Tex. From there he will be shipped to Pensacola, Fla., for advanced flight training.

Slight Damage

Both cars received slight damage when the one driven by Velnor Lewis, Pontiac, collided with that driven by Earl D. Knudson of Ferndale at the corner of Woodward and Quarten Road Sunday.

Hipskind-Potere Vows Spoken at Morning Service Saturday

White gladioli and mums were the altar flowers for the double ring marriage ceremony of Evelyn Marjorie Potere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Potere of Villa Ridge, and Benjamin C. Hipskind, son of Mrs. George C. Hipskind of Dayton, Ohio. The couple spoke their vows before the Rev. William Roosen at the Shrine of the Little Flower on Saturday, February 15. The bride, given away by her father, was robed in a traditional white satin wedding gown, fashioned with a lace fan-shaped train, the long sleeves forming points over the hands and a sweetheart neckline. Her headpiece was a white tulle tiara from which a veil of the tulle fell, and she carried a white prayerbook surrounded by white orchids, to which streamers of sweet peas were attached.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Roosen, chose a pink faille colonial-styled gown with a matching Juliet cap and short veil. Her orchid bouquet was made up of pink carnations and cornflowers.

William Potere of Rochester, Mich., was best man and Frank Roosen of Birmingham and Russell Johnson of Detroit acted as the groomsmen.

A reception at the home of the bride followed a family breakfast at Devon Gables.

Mrs. Potere's dress was a peacock blue gown, and with it she wore a flowered hat and black accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

She left for her wedding trip to Chicago, Mrs. Hipskind was wearing a green gaboridine suit, with a grey and green hat and black accessories and her orchid corsage.

Annual Baldwin Art Exhibit Set for Next Week

The annual art exhibit will be presented by the Baldwin art classes in room 10L of the high school on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 24 through Feb. 26.

The pictures are reproductions of famous paintings. The exhibit will consist of 450 pictures and will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to come at any time during the three days. Tickets will be on sale at the door and in the English classes.

Guest Artists
An added feature of the exhibit will be guest artists who will talk to Baldwin English classes today. They include Francis Merritt, Kingwood instructor; Mrs. Dorothy Lee Heals, artist and special instructor; Mrs. J. Vinton Birch and Mrs. William Shover, members of a local artists group in Birmingham.

All Baldwin students will see the exhibit during their English classes. The senior classes are appointing a chairman from each class who will explain some of the pictures.

The purpose of the exhibit is to raise money for purchasing pictures for the halls and classrooms of Baldwin. Last year several good reproductions were purchased in this manner.
