Perched on Truck, Localities See Mardi Gras Rex

Interesting reports of Mardi Gras doings in the fabulous city of New Orleans come from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wyatt and their daughter, Patricia, of Southfield road.

While in New Orleans recently as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Little of Metairie, a suburb of New Orleans, the Wyatts had an opportunity to visit some of the Mardi Gras' biggest and most exclusive balls.

They attended the Oberon, Atlanteans, and Mummies preceding Mardi Gras night, and then on that night were present at the Cornus, the Carnival's most elaborate affair, where members of the Krewe, dressed in costumes and masks, strove to outdo one another.

With Mrs. Wyatt as a clown and Mrs. Wyatt as a gypsy, they watched the big parade on Mardi Gras day and saw Rex from their vantage point on a truck.

The Wyatts returned home last week before going to Flint for the weekend to visit Mrs. Wyatt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marc Stern.

Friends Attend a Supper Following Sunday Christening

Following the christening of little Cheryl Ann Simons by the Rev. Edgar Allan J. Babcock, at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament in Detroit, last Sunday, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Simons of Bloomfield Village asked friends in to supper at their home on Woodale drive.

Rev. Babcock, who was recently appointed as an auxiliary bishop of Detroit, performed the Simons marriage ceremony, and christened their other two children, Dale and Jack.

Guests at supper were Cheryl's god-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Y. Siebold of Huntington Woods, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Petersen of Grosse Pointe, her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maul Petersen, also of Grosse Pointe and Miss Jean Blaeser of Bloomfield Village.

Guests See Unveiling of Thomas Schooley's Latest Painting

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schooley of Hivensock road invited a large group of their friends for dinner recently for the formal unveiling of Mr. Schooley's most recent painting, a scene near their summer home on Lake Huron.

For the occasion a song, written by Mrs. Schooley especially for the occasion, was sung by Melvin Hartz.

Guests included the Robert Chisnu, the Merrill Adams, the Harold Ellertby, the Melvin Harts, the Francis DuBois, the George Steelman, the Hoyt Gilberts, the Howard Estes, Zella Bricker and Helen Tobias.

Barnum's Religious Group Attends Day of Prayer Friday

Five churches participated in the program of the annual World Day of Prayer which is sponsored each year by the Council of Church Women. This year's meeting was held at the St. James Episcopal Church on Friday, Feb. 21.

Mrs. Harold Turner, organist, opened the meeting with organ music, and members of choirs from other churches supplied appropriate music for the service, with Mrs. Virgil Lockrow as soloist.

Mrs. George Meeker, program leader from St. James Church, and Mrs. Walter Ross from Christ Church Cranbrook and Mrs. Amos Gregory of the First Methodist Church, planned the program of the day.

Presentation of projects sponsored by the council was given by Mrs. Malvin Crump, wife of the pastor of the First Baptist Church, just before the offering which was handled by Mrs. Stuart Allen from the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Loren Blunt was in charge of the closing part of the program. Mrs. Blunt is director of the religious club at Barnum School, which is sponsored by the Council of Church Women.

Five of the club's 25 members participated in the service. They were Betty Eawster, president, Ann Averill, vice-president and secretary, Bob Spence, chairman of the membership committee, Pat Miller, music chairman and Alice Wark, a high school student member interested in missionary work.

Forrest Fox, as "Guest" in the play, enters his third season, with the Players and is also prominent in Detroit drama circles.

Decorations are being arranged by Mrs. Ray Filkins and her committee made up of Mrs. Frank Hardy, Mrs. Drayton McLellan, Mrs. Peter J. Terres, Mrs. Walter H. Bodle, Mrs. James T. Wall and Mrs. C. T. Blauman, Mrs. Charles Reynolds and Mrs. Grant Folin in charge of invitations.

Mrs. Leon I. Thurston, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Herbert S. Saffell and Mrs. George Burdick, have charge of ticket arrangements, and Mrs. Raymond A. Morrow, chairman, and Mrs. Coljn Campbell and Mrs. Earl T. Blauman are on the hospital-ity committee.

Mrs. James M. Anderson, aided by Mrs. K. M. Schaefer and Mrs. Ray E. Lathrop, will make the favors, and the program is being arranged by Mrs. A. L. Moses, chairman, and Mrs. E. W. Layland and Mrs. Lowell Page.

STRIPED HIGHLIGHT

Pointed peplum extending into side skirt drape in a striped cotton dress. A navy belt made in with the blue, grey and red chambray.

STRIPES are a leading trend in new cottons for Resort and Summer this year. New York designers have used stripes from pencil line to floor-board width or anywhere in between, as in the smart-looking chambray dress shown. You'll find striped chambray, poplin and pique used in such fascinating ways that the stripe itself somewhat dictates the shape of the dress. An evening dress with the stripes spread in rays as the full skirt widens, and a sundress of vertical striped cotton with a shoulder cape of bias-stripes are examples. And for a brighter day at the office there are beautifully tailored dresses in various colored stripes with "stratop" necklines, best necklines or collar and cuffs of stripes on the bias.

... concerning your Gift to the Bride

The supreme happiness, deservedly hers on her Wedding Day, demands more than usual thoughtfulness on the part of those who mark the occasion with their Gifts.

Your Gift, if chosen for such attributes as beauty, usefulness and distinctively fine quality—together with a never-grow-old character—will certainly add to her joy, and be remembered with genuine satisfaction long after the immediate occasion.

That is the kind of Gift to the Bride one finds at LaBelles, where attention to beautiful wrapping plays its part too—for your Gift is wedding-wrapped so beautifully that it becomes successful from the moment it is glimpsed.
