

Jim Holden Named Next President of Canteen Council

The teen canteen council recently elected new officers and appointed committees who have laid plans for future entertainment for teen-agers.

Officers elected were Jim Holden, president; Pat Sanderson, vice-president and program chairman; Ted Laird, treasurer; Pat Mallin, secretary and publicity manager; and Bill Goodwin, sergeant-at-arms.

Committees include the house committee under John Wendell for the maintenance of records and equipment, and the ticket committee under Chuck Curtis.

Topping the list for future entertainment are dances sponsored by Kay Baum every other week featuring Don Maxwell's band. Plans along different lines include bridge and ping-pong tournaments, shuffleboard, chess and checkers.

Baldwin, Barnum Bands Capture Seven 1st Division Places at Solo Festival

By Dick Adams

Returning home with more than their share of the honors, the members of the Baldwin and Barnum bands who attended the Southeastern Michigan Solo and Ensemble Festival last Saturday at Hamtramck's Carpenter's Junior High School compiled a record of seven first, seven second, and three third divisions.

After many weeks of preparation, the instrumentalists spent the day exhibiting their skill before several outstanding men in the music field who judged them on their performance as compared with perfection. They were rated according to the division, superior; second, excellent; third, good; fourth, fair; and fifth division, poor.

Those participating in the festival from Barnum were: cornetists Ronald Phillips and Bill Berndt, first division; clarinetists, Dick Emery and Bud Deloria, second; and pianist, Dick Delia, second.

Soloists representing Baldwin were Kats Kelly, violin, second division; Harris Jackson, cornet, second; drummer, Roger Jackson, third; and trombonists, Jack and Dick Adams, first.

The ensemble groups consisted of Barnumites Dick Emery, Glenn Emery, Charles Olin, Bud Deloria, clarinet quartet, Ralph Phillips, Bill Berndt, James Craig, cornet trio, second division; and Jack Rue, Charles Barnum, Herb Strauch, cornet trio, third.

The senior ensembles were clarinet trio, Ralph Dunbar, Bill Roush, and Shirley Green, second division; flute trio, Marion Adams, Mary Kemp, and Elizabeth Hinzlar, first; clarinet quartet, Ralph Dunbar, Bill Roush, Sally Smith, and Martha Penfield, first; and trombone quartet, Bill Roush, Francis Hayes, Jack Adams, and Dick Adams, third.

Both bands are under the instruction of Arnold W. Berndt whose record during his 20 years as music director shows that Birmingham will be proud of its music department.

The Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Association is very fortunate in being able to secure as judges Dr. David Matern and Kaskell Sexton, University of Michigan; Dr. Larry Teal and Arthur Cooper, Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Roy Underwood, music director of Michigan State College, and Roy Miller of Wayne.

Special Buses for Students Going to Port Huron Game

By Jim Milderbrant

Victorious in 11 of 13 starts, Birmingham's high riding cage crew will meet the Port Huron five on the Blue Water floor tomorrow night for the Eastern Michigan League championship.

Birmingham is assured of at least a three-way tie for first place as its record of six victories and one defeat can not be bettered if Port Huron should be victorious. This is due to the Big Red's 20-12 defeat at the hands of Ferndale last Friday night and a previous loss to the Raisers earlier in the season.

Not only will the championship be decided but the chances for All-State for Chuck Murray, high scoring Maple center, and Andy Baling, Big Red Star, may hinge upon this encounter.

A large crowd is expected of the chartered buses provided to allow Birmingham students to see this last game of the season.

Girl Cagers Lose a Close Game to Kingswood Team

Kingswood's girls' basketball team defeated Birmingham sophomores, 26-31, in a close game Saturday in Baldwin gym.

The locals took the lead in the second quarter only to be passed by Kingswood in the third. Staging a rally in the last quarter, the home team came just short of the Kingswood score.

Playing for Birmingham were Jo Van Wagener, Audrey Engel, Marian Monroy, Sally Buck, Georgia Turman, Ginny Schaffer, Nancy Greene, Vivian Hale and Peggy McPhail.

By Gerry Hughes

Keeping in stride with their varsity counterparts, the victorious Maple reserve chucked up their tenth victory of the season, 37-21, against a scrappy Hazel Park five here last Friday night.

The Maple seconds led the Vikings throughout the game with their most consistent scoring occurring in the last two periods.

With just a few minutes remaining in the contest, Birmingham put on an effective stall and held position of the ball to the final gun.

High scoring honors for Birmingham went to Duke Layland and Jim Anderson tallying 11 and 9 points, respectively.

Thisideam, Hazel Park forward, racked up 14 points for the visitors.
