An Open Letter . . .

To the TAXPAYERS
of Southfield Township

We have been urgently requested by friends and fellow taxpayers, and other residents of this Township that we enter the coming election for Township Supervisor. After due consideration of the issues confronting the entire Township and with the sincere belief that definite corrective measures are necessary, we believe it to be in the interests of the entire community that we comply with their request.

We believe we have the concurrence of the majority of the taxpayers of this Township that residence in the Township is of our own choosing for several specific reasons, a few of which are freedom from exorbitant taxes, and freedom from political boom-doggings so prevalent today throughout our cities on a national scale, threatening our entire economy. We are all aware of the present trend in our own Township. In future "Open Letters" we intend to acquaint the people of these maladjustments and the corrective measures required to eliminate them. Our program will be enacted with the view of serving the "entire" Township, with "favoritism for none" and "equality for all." To each specific part of this program which will be enumerated and discussed in our next "Open Letter" we pledge ourself.

Sincerely yours for a Better Southfield Township,

(Signed) DUDLEY P. FRAME.

Marian Clarke Speaks Vows To Walter Lincoln Fry, Jr.

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of the ceremony which Marian Clarke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Ellsworth Clarke of Glenhurst drive, and Walter Lincoln Fry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Fry of Vaughan road, in marriage Saturday evening.

The Rev. Charles H. Cadigan read the double ring ceremony at which before an altar decorated with vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, greenery and a background for the candlelight rites.

Given in marriage by her father, "Capses" were white satin fashioned with scallops edging the neckline the long tight sleeves, the long fitted bodice and the overskirt which started from the waist and swept into a circular train. Silk chiffon formed the yoke which fitted in to a high round neckline.

Held in place by a cap of tulle, the full-length veil was distinguished by a diamond-shaped inset of beehive lace starting from the cap and extending to the end of the train. Marian's bridal bouquet was of sweet peas and white orchids.

Mrs. David U. Thomas of Bardonia, Ky., Walter's sister, was matron of honor and Miss Oatman of New York City was the maid-in-honor. Bridesmaids were Patsy Clarke and Mrs. William Norcross. All of the attendants wore dusty-rose colored tulle, fashioned with sweetheart necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and light bodices. They carried arm bouquets of different colored carnations and wore wide-brimmed net hats of the same color.

Robert Hall was best man and Rudy Verrecruce and Chalmers LaFay, Detroit, David U.

Thomas of Bardonia, Ky., and the bride's brothers, Charles and Norman Clarke, Jr., were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, which followed in the church parlors, Mrs. Clarke chose a gold crepe gown with draped skirt and matching gloves. Her hat was of woven olive green feathers and net and her flowers were brown orchids.

Mrs. Fry wore slate blue crepe with a gold belt. Her hat was gold and she wore long white kid gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry went by plane to Bermuda for their honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a black gabardine suit with a green topcoat. Her accessories were black and she wore an orchid from her bouquet. When the couple return from their two-week wedding trip, they will make their home in Bloomfield Hills.

"The Elves and the Shoemaker" to Be Presented by AAU

It has just been announced that "The Elves and the Shoemaker," a folk tale beloved by children for generations, is to be presented by the Children's Theatre group of the Birmingham AAUW on Feb. 7. The production will be staged at the Birmingham theatre, with curtain time at 2 p.m. Birmingham grade school pupils will enjoy a holiday that afternoon.

The play is an elaborated version of the old tale. As it opens, the shoemaker's wife and daughter, grown desperately poor while the shoemaker is off at war, face the loss of their humble shop to a wicked townswoman.

Three elves, magically invisible to human beings so long as they wear their caps, listen as the evil woman tells the wife and daughter that she will give them three days' grace only on condition that they make for her a beautiful pair of shoes by the next day at noon.

From then on the plot moves swiftly while the impish elves, unseen by the human characters, dance about the stage, carrying out their plans to foil the villainous woman's nefarious schemes and to re-unite the shoemaker and his family.

The production is the 1947 play of the Children's Theatre group of the American Association of University Women, the group which last year gave "Aldin and the Wonderful Lamp."
