Midwinter Bridge Luncheon Is Event at Oakland Hills

For the first time in the history of Oakland Hills Country Club a midwinter bridge luncheon was planned this year. Mrs. Bert Uebale was in charge of the event, which took place on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 21. Her committee included Mrs. Dale O. Miller, Mrs. John F. Wood, Mrs. F. D. Knoblock and Mrs. Damon S. Gall, social chairman.

The new members at the luncheon who failed to attend the club's cocktail party on Saturday, Jan. 11, had their first chance to admire the new decor. The foyer is painted soft green with white trim. Gold brocade drapes and new rugs and carpeting complete the picture.

The sun room is in chateaux and yellow and the modernistic bar has been done over in hot pink and pale yellow leather.

Little pots of planted violets centered the tables in the Grand Lounge and were given to the table winners at the end of the play. The redecorated lounge now has a truly colonial atmosphere. It has green and white trim with moss green carpets. The draperies are of imported English chintz of Georgian design with a lacquer red background highlighted with floral motifs in shades of red, green, and blue.

The club's new City Club in Iam B. Hulbert, Kathleen O'Brien, Joan Stone, Mrs. David B. Motz and Mrs. Carl E. Rhodes.
