Reserves Win Fifth Straight by Turning Back Hazel Park '5'

By Hugh Quinn

The Maple reserves out-speeded speedy quintet at Hazel Park Friday night, winding up on the long end of a 46-33 score for victory number four for the location.

Lanky center Jim McCall led the victors with 17 points, made on six baskets and five court-side shots. Pat Wall, with 12 points, also proved an important factor in the victory.

The Parkers were at home on the slippery linoleum floor and taking a slight lead before Birmingham settled down to the task of winning.

The score at the half was 31-20 for Birmingham.

Possibly many of the Birmingham basketball fans have noticed a few unfamiliar names at the recent encounters. The fellows on the team seem to enjoy giving each other nicknames to suit their personalities. Some of the more common are "Cookie" Sutton, "Buildup" Thurston, "Ham Hand" Roy and "Vasher" Moses, "Judy" Murray, and "Rosie" Littleton.

Although the Birmingham team will miss its four January graduates, it will profit by the addition of Stan Schaeffer, who played on the squad in 1945. He joined the Army and is now returning to school. He is six feet three inches tall and should prove valuable under the basket.

The Barham basketball team started the season with a bad defeat by Pontiac Washington, but has shown much improvement in the past few weeks, outcooking the high school B squad in a scrimmage last week.

Many track prospects are starting training early on the indoor track after school. By the time weather permits outdoor practice, they should be in very good physical shape.

The reserve varsity basketball squads received a treat from the athletic department last Saturday night, attending the double header at Olympia. Some of the top teams of our country performed, Notre Dame playing University of Detroit and Western Michigan meeting Loyola College.

Richard Shallberg Will Preside Over Barnum Council

Students of Barnum Junior High School elected Richard Shallberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Shallberg, president of the Student Council for next semester. He was opposed in the election by Pete Flumstead and Charles Betts.

Robert Hardy defeated Ward Abbott for vice president. Mary Hopkins was elected secretary over Sara Stringer. Edwin Matas defeated Bill Wilkinson and Barry Harper for treasurer.

A wide variety of interesting and entertaining campaign skits were presented at the general assembly preceding the voting. Homeroom representatives will be elected the first week of next semester.

WALNUT LAKE SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Dear Pam,

Your "Barb" was up bright and early Saturday morning when the Girl Scouts invited her to give the radio broadcast, "The Coffee Club," with them. The mothers who chaperoned were Mrs. J. Palmer, Mrs. W. Boston, Mrs. G. Dilley, Mrs. N. Wilson, Mrs. C. Given, Mrs. H. Soule and Mrs. H. H. Schwartze, the leader. Betty Bressette, who recently moved away, also came to enjoy the program.

At the Court of Awards Tuesday night at Farmington, Lee Hansen won his Eagle award. Norm Wilson and Dick Nyberg also received badges.

The upper room has been carrying wax in art class. Snowmen, alligators, dogs and apples seem to be most popular with the students. We first made clay models to follow in the wax.

It looked to Barb as if all of Walnut Lake was out skating on that bright sunny Sunday we experienced last week. Among those complaining of tired ankles were Barb Wilson, Emily Lehto, Patty Kemp and many others.

Bye now,
Barb

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

In a consultation with the head physicians of Baldwin's infirmary, we were informed that they had decided Annie was still unable to be outdoors; and so Annie's twin brothers are happy to be with you again this winter. We will try to bring you the lowdown on all the doings before the final ordeal of exams.

Friday evening buses and cars were packed to overflowing with 21-man basketball fans on their way to Hazel Park to see our team eke out a one-point decision.

We were late in arranging transportation, so we stowed away in George Campbell's car and talked with twenty other people listened to George Campbell, Dick Adams, Lee Dealey, Chuck Huff, Bob Woodruff and Steve Miller discuss Birmingham's reserve and varsity teams.

We were lucky to get there early enough to get in as we heard later a number of Birmingham fans were turned away from the door. When we had found our own seats we watched Hugh Quinn, the Eccentric's reporter, furiously taking down the scores made by Jim McCall and Pat Wall in the reserve game.

During the varsity game, we happened to look up in the balcony and saw the girls and Glenn Metzger, Betty Valle, Boots Parks, Barb Toles, Mary Anne Foster and alumni Tom Cokerly and Tom Hubbard.

After the game a lot of the gang went over to Jo Kates to dance and listen to records. Some of the people sitting around talking were John Lurkin, Don McKonkie, Hank Price, Ray Lawless, Mary Betts, Suzie Mock, Kerry Kern and Nan Chappell.

Saturday night Annie wanted us to take in one of the senior parties but as we had previously arranged dates with two of Birmingham's glamour gals, we sent one our confederates over to Lawrence Erickson's to look in on Pete Greig, Logie Clark, Denny Converse, Bill Reed, Rog Reynolds, Barb Gears, and Barbara and Beverly Nell eating and dancing to some of the latest tunes.

We and our dates saw a good Cranbrook quintet play Cranbrook alumni. We talked to Bob Grindley, Dave Ballentine, Jo Gove and Doc Watson.

After the game we spent our last $1.20 to see "Two Years Before the Mast" and caught a glimpse of Nancy Dalton, Pete Whitlock and the new kid, Bob Beatty. Jo Flues, Jack Goodwin, Jean Kiefer and Dick Groves in the crowd.

Sunday evening found the seniors attending baccalaureate services at the Presbyterian Church, afterwards journeying over to Gloria Davison's open house where Bill Larson, Henry Lac, Gene Sutton, Marilyn Kemp, Elaine Griffin, Barb Teles and Jan Walser were among the many grads present.

Since this is exam week, we weren't able to take in any of those senior parties; but we heard about all the fun at Jo Gove's last night. We know they will also have a good time when they gather at Mary Anne Foster's tonight.

Both Annie and we will have to see this great bunch of kids leave us, and we know that every body in Baldwin agrees with us. Best of luck, to all of you from all of us.

Athletic Teams Will Make History Next Season With 101 Scheduled Encounters

By Bob Brungbauer

Inter-sanitation and more space will be made in the football locker room. The new arrangement will allow all equipment to be aired and dried after each use, prolonging the life of uniforms and cutting equipment costs.

A survey is being conducted among other schools for the study of the financing of athletic injuries. It is hoped that by next fall there will be a new plan offering enough security to prevent any athlete from suffering undue financial hardships.

Decrease Costs

All specific treatment would be given on a prescription basis supplied by local physicians.

Once in operation, this plan would tend to keep more athletes in playing condition, increase the rate of recovery from injuries, and decrease individual medical costs.

Bob Folin Scores 22 Points as Reserves Defeat Highland Park

By Hugh Quinn

In defeating Highland Park last week, the reserve five hung up its fourth straight win as dead-eye Bob Folin added 22 points to his already high total. The game, played on the local floor, ended 45-20.

The Maples started with a bang and held a 13-point advantage when forward Bob Nicholas sank the first Highland Park basket.

The visitors were never able to get close enough to the basket to shoot, having to be satisfied with unsuccessful long shots. In the second quarter, the Parkers were held to one point.
