Christian Science Lecture Presented Sunday, Jan. 19, in Local Church Edifice

An audience of over 700 persons greeted Mrs. Elizabeth F. Norwood, C.S.D., of Brookline, Mass., Sunday afternoon, Jan. 19, as she appeared at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Birmingham, to deliver a lecture entitled, "Christian Science: The Religion of Love, which heals."

She is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Norwood was introduced to her audience by James H. Bennett, member of the local church.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

A Water Softener You Don't Have To Buy!

is love," and on this statement and the authority of the Bible that God is All, Christian Science is based.

In Christian Science, God, who is Love, is incorporeal, that is, without a material body. If God, Love, were corporeal, somehow, somewhere, sometimes, someone would have seen God. But in Exodus (33:20) it is recorded that God says, "Thou shalt not see my face: for there shall no man see me and live." Although Love cannot be seen by the material senses, the presence of Love is mentally real.

God also is Mind, and because this Mind is infinite there can be no other there can be no death. In good, there can be no evil mind. In "Miscellaneous Writings" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, we read (p. 173), "If Mind, God, is all-power and all-presence, man is not met by another power and presence, that—obstructing his intelligence—pains, fetters, and befools him."

Proves Evil Unreal

God also is Spirit, incorporeal and supreme, the divine Being in which there is nothing physical. Understanding the infinitude of the one Spirit, good, enabled the Master to cast out evil spirits, and thus prove them to be unreal.

In Soul, another name for Deity, we find the sinlessness, the holiness, the immortality of God.

Principle is another name for God. It is not difficult to realize that Principle is incorporeal, but Principle is no more incorporeal than Life and Love. All adjectives describing God are applicable to all synonyms for God. Principle, supreme and infinite, is the great Lawmaker.

God also is Life, divine Being, which is ever conscious; and because Life is infinite, filling all space, there can be no death. To really understand the infinitude, the supremacy, of Life means victory over death. "Life demonstrates Life," we read in the Christian Science textbook (p. 306).

God also is Truth, always highest in authority, always operating, ever present. The very mission of Truth is to destroy error, which, because of the infinitude of Truth, must be unreal.

Max, the Spiritual Idea of God, in Soul, another name for Deity, His entire universe consists of ideas, humbly viewed as lesser and weaker ideas, all reflecting Him in various degrees. Mind's highest idea is man. His image and likeness. This spiritual idea, man, is as eternal as God; He knows no birth, no death; he is forever complete by reflection, and always at the point of perfection.

Having found the man of God's creating, never unhappy, dying, or
