Civilian Jeep Bulldozer

Fitted with a special TMC Hydraulic lift that raises and lowers the bulldozer blade, all four wheels are driving as this civilian jeep scrapes roads or fills ditches. Jobs it does as easily as pulling plows or powering farm machinery through the take-off. Shifted to two-wheel drive, the Willys-Overland vehicle races to the next task at speeds up to 60 miles an hour.

Tied Up

This is the way watchman Stanley Glad, 65, found himself after three gunmen broke into the Chicago cleaning plant where he worked: trussed by colorful neckties, and suspended from an overhead hanger-bar. Near his head you can see the plant's watchdog, which just watched while the gunmen broke open one safe and made off with two others in the establishment's delivery truck.

Zoning

to clearly exempt, as Allee suggests, all municipal bodies from provisions of the zoning code.

"It is commonly agreed by many individuals familiar with municipal affairs, that zoning codes are created under the police power to limit the right of individual citizen to function. It is not intended to tell units of government what they can or can't do," Allee explained.

Use Ballot Box

If a citizen believes a governmental unit has violated a legal restriction, he may resort to the courts to correct the action, he said.

"If it is an error of judgment on the part of public officials, the citizen may express his opinion through the ballot box at the next election," Allee pointed out.

He indicated that when the ordinance was drawn up in 1932, he believed the wording was such that would not restrict the use of public lands.

If now there is a question of the intent of the framers of the ordinance concerning some particular angle of the code, then I think I can let you gentlemen know that intent," he declared.

Make No Distinction

If the ordinance is not amended to definitely exclude municipal bodies from the provisions of the code, then in Allee's opinion the city very possibly could discover itself struggling to find a place to erect a new fire station, city well or water tank.

"The city should make no distinction between privileges of city government as compared to school governments," Allee believes. "The zoning ordinance should treat the both of them alike, and leave no source or the ballot box as the citizens' means of censure."
