 "By the late Buddha of Temple Shan Chi, honored friend of my heart," said the Chinese business man, "I have lent a tricky mandarin in Canton street 2,000 Mexican trade dollars, and he has not given a receipt. What shall I do?"

"Write sternly and demand the payment of the 4,000 silver pieces," suggested his friend.
 "But, most careless listener, it was only 2,000 pieces."
 "I know—but he will indignantly tell you so. That will serve as your receipt."

Church News
 Senior High Young People's Group of the Congregational Community church visited Temple Beth El Wednesday afternoon and Rabbi Himmelman explained the customs, teachings and symbols of the Jewish faith to them. After the conducted tour they bowed to the music of Mrs. Williams of North Woodward Congregational church. The religious service committee will hold a board meeting next Sunday following the 11 o'clock service.

Wendell Holmes of the Townsite was appointed to take charge of promotional and publicity in the church building campaign. Rev. Rose stated Monday that attendance at Sunday service continues to be good. Mrs. Williams of Meadowbrook Way will be guest soloist next Sunday.

St. Michael's Activities
 The Parish Picnic will be Sunday, Aug. 3, on the grounds. There will be games of all sorts, ice cream and hot dog stands and cold drinks will be available. The Reverend Bart announces that the Holy Father collection amounted to $27.68. This amount included the donation from the Sarah Fisher Home and the children. Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for Sodality members at the 9 o'clock Mass.

Friday evening, tomorrow, there will be a dance at the school for young and old with good music and entertainment interspersed. You are urged to attend and join in the fun.

The St. Sebastian group was organized during the war years and the group devoted its activities to the welfare of the veterans, particularly the disabled, and there is still need for workers in that direction. The group receives

Jeff Davis, President of Confederacy, Designed Historic Alpena Lighthouse

By The Old AAA Traveler

Through all the years of travel as a top American pastime, Michigan has exerted a strong lure on residents of the states to the southward. For here in Michigan those visitors find something completely new in scenery and climate, something entirely different from their own sections.

And now Michigan has something additional with strong lure for the Southerners. It is the little lighthouse just north of Alpena, the little light built in 1838 as one of the first assignments of a young United States Army engineer—Lieutenant Jefferson Davis by name!

Confederate Shrine
 Yes, 20-odd years before he was to become President of the Confederate States of America, young his grandson is developing for he was a direct descendant of General John Burgoyne, who descended upon this young country in 1776 to join General Gage at Boston and fight in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

 Later he was sent to Canada as governor and returned to England in 1777 to take command of an expedition against the United States, an ill-fated mission whose failure largely contributed to freedom for this country—for few battles in history have achieved results as far-reaching as that at Saratoga, when Burgoyne surrendered. And, after his days as a warrior, the ancestor of Francois Burgoyne Stebbins retired to produce dramas, one of his most successful "The Heiress," still looked upon as a masterpiece.

 So, to the Southerner visiting Michigan, I'd say, along with young Stebbins:
 "See Alpena, by all means, and drop in on the old lighthouse just as a tribute to the Southerner who built it."
