

Frances Stanley Becomes Bride of James S. Kirkwood

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirkwood of Detroit. Given in marriage by her brother, Lloyd L. Stanley, Jr., of Los Angeles, the bride chose for her wedding a white satin gown with a square neckline, long sleeves, and a polonaise draped skirt which fell into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil was caught under a crown of lilacs of the valley, and these flowers and sweet peas edged her bouquet of white orchids.

Jean Kirkwood, sister of the groom and maid of honor, wore a gold nylon dress with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves, carried a fan shaped bouquet of tallman roses, and wore a crown of the same roses in her hair.

The two other attendants, Polly Stanley, sister of the bride, and

Craig-Hart Troth Told at Tuesday Tea

At a tea given from 4 to 6 p. m. Tuesday at the Orchard Lake Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hart of Birmingham announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Campbell Hart, to Robert Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Craig of Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Hart was assisted by Mrs. W. S. Gilbreath, Jr., Mrs. C. F. Charlton, Mrs. J. Truman Strong and Mrs. J. M. deBruyn, while Virginia was assisted by Mrs. Richard

Suzanne Spiegel Married at Colonial Wedding Saturday

The Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding ceremony of Suzanne Spiegel and Walter Robert Naas Saturday at 5 o'clock, as the couple repeated their vows in a double ring service before the Rev. Dr. W. Glen Harris.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spiegel of Chastfield road, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naas of Niles, Mich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was robed in a gown of white marquisette with a wide ruffle outlining the marquisette yoke and hem of the full skirt which ended in a long train.

Her fingertip length veil fell from a coronet of pearl orange blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and white roses.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. William S. Spiegel, Jr., of Lansing, matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Pierce, and Anne Spiegel, cousin of the bride, wore identical gowns of blue, their hair pulled off the shoulder necklines and long sleeves.

Their handresses were carried in white hats of blue net, and they carried colonial nosegays of American beauty roses.

Tiny three-year-old Kathie Eyrson, flower girl, wore a long blue dress, styled similarly to that of the bride, and she wore a bandeau of sweet peas in her hair and carried a basket of rose petals.

Charles Hugh Naas was his man, and Arthur Morris of Niles, William S. Spiegel, Jr., and Douglas Jewett of Royal Oak seated the guests.

The bride's mother chose a soft gold street-length dress fashioned with a drape skirt, and she wore brown accessories and a hat of brown horsehair with roses. She

First Performance Of "Our Town"

A treat in store for theatre enthusiasts in the evening of June 19, 20, 21, and 22 when St. Dunstan's Guild presents Thornton Wilder's hauntingly beautiful American drama "Our Town."

For the first time since the war the Cranbrook Greek Theatre with its cool and gracious setting will be opened to the public for a Guild performance.

Especially built in the classic pattern of the Golden Age of Greek drama, this unique theatre is noted for its splendid acoustics and for the unusually clear vision it provides audiences, as well as for its rich beauty. It is located on Lone Pine road in Bloomfield Hills.

The play itself, well known to all drama lovers, is a portrayal of the truths of American life seen through the lives and deaths of the residents of a typical small town. Blue critics hailed it as a unique experience in the theatre.

Any performance that is raised out will be given in the Cranbrook School Gymnasium, also located on Lone Pine road.
