Ann Bergishagen Wed in Saturday Afternoon Rites

The marriage of Annelise Bergishagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erik Bergishagen of Adams road, to Richard Baxter Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nasson Smith of Birmingham and Winchester, Mass., took place here Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. Glen Harris.

Elected to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of antique ivory moire made with a fitted bodice finished with a tulle yoke applied with heriotism chantilly lace, long sleeves and a full, circular skirt. Her tulle veil was attached to a cap of the same lace and she carried white orchids surrounded by sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jules Gail of Birmingham, and the bridesmaids, Misses Gunner and Greta Bergishagen, sisters of the bride, wore ice blue chambray with blue headveils. They carried blue delphinium with streamers of English ivy.

Carl Frederick Huddle of Detroit was best man, and the ushers were Dale Hornung and John Reed, both of Detroit, and Erik, Jk and Finn Bergishagen, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bergishagen chose a gown of soft green crepe. With it she wore a small green and cocoa tulle hat and brown orchids.

Mrs. Smith was greeted in pink crepe and wore lavender orchids. A reception was held at Devon Gables, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Quebec and the Gaspe Peninsula.

Mrs. Smith chose a brown tone on tone ensemble for her going away suit, and wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Following their honeymoon the couple will make their home in Birmingham.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. McKee of Belmont, Mass., Mrs. Robert P. Goodale, Mrs. Robert T. Wright and Miss Inger Jacobsen of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Summer Institute At Cranbrook to Begin Monday

The Cranbrook Summer Institute begins its second year on Monday, June 23, with capacity enrollment in most divisions. Still open are classes for older girls in weaving, ceramics, drawing and painting and in the adult division, where is still room for students in photography, lapidary work and silverwork. The Saturday morning class for children in lapidary work is also not yet filled. The Cranbrook Summer Institute will run for six weeks until August 1.

Organized last year to include the Cranbrook Summer School of the Theatre, Kingwood Summer Institute and the Cranbrook Summer Session, the present organization is sponsored by all of the Cranbrook institutions to make available their educational facilities to the community during the summer months.

The Cranbrook Summer Institute provides a program of recreation and instruction for children beginning at age six in the various fields of arts and crafts, nature study, sports and swimming, which is done in the outdoor pools under the supervision of trained instructors. The Red Cross program of advancement features the swimming.

Series of Concerts

The adult program includes weaving, photography, lapidary work, silverwork, ceramics, drawing and painting and art lectures.

Sponsored by the Cranbrook Summer Institute again this year will be a series of concerts of recorded music. These are given on Sunday and Wednesday evenings at dusk in the area between the Art Library and Art Museum of the Cranbrook Academy of Art.

The various functions on the grounds are lighted on these evenings and thus form a most delightful background for the concert music which is played. These concerts are free to the public and the first concert will be held, weather permitting, on Sunday June 22nd.

M. J. Forsyth to Wed Grosse Ile Man on July 12

Mary Jeannie Forsyth, whose engagement to John Byron Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Wright of "Haleyan Place" Grosse Ile, was announced in February, has set her marriage date for July 12.

Mary Jeannie, a former resident of Birmingham, will be married at the St. James Episcopal Church at Grosse Ile in an afternoon ceremony at which her father, the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth, will officiate, assisted by Bishop Richard Emrich.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Warner L. Forsyth, Jr., and will be attended by Mrs. Theodore Mack as matron of honor, and Phoebe Stone and Connie Lou Overesch of Grosse Ile, Mrs. Robert Pierce and Sue Collins of Birmingham, and Grace Fletcher of Altona.

Robert Scott Wright will be his brother's best man, and the ushers will be Raymond Day, Peter Day, Morgan C. Johnson, Sidney B. Corbett, Robert Burns, brother-in-law of the groom, and Theodore Mack, brother-in-law of the bride.

A lawn reception will follow the ceremony at "Haleyan Place" the Wright home.

Combined Men's Clubs Plan Picnic

A picnic for the combined Men's Club of St. James and Christ Church, will take place at the cabin at the Cranbrook School grounds, starting at 4 p. m. Monday, June 23.

Reservations may be made by calling the St. James parish house.

Charles E. Hasse Weds Priscilla Oswald Saturday

At a double ring ceremony at the Shrine of the Little Flower Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Charles E. Hasse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Hasse of Dearborn, and Priscilla Oswald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement N. Oswald of Royal Oak.

The rites were read by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and lighted tapers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was robed in an Emily original gown of skinner satin, fashioned with a tight bodice and a full hoop skirt. From the yoke of illusion fell two rows of ruffles fastened with a satin bow in front. The full skirt ended in a long train.

Seed pearls edged the fingertip veil of illusion, which matched her Juliet cap of the pearls.

She carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book upon which were two white orchids with baby gardenias fastened to the satin streamers. Apple green tissue taffeta gowns with matching long gloves were worn by the bridesmaids, Dorothy Puff of Royal Oak, maid of honor, Mary Jo Burkett of Detroit, Erichrich Huddle of Royal Oak, and Gertrude Hasse, sister of the groom.

Matching green net scalloped hats trimmed in pink roses were the headresses of the bridesmaids. Their flowers were unusual heart-shaped wreaths of roses and carnations tied with satin ribbons which were worn on the arm.

Byron Howard, Jr., of Detroit, was best man, with David Hasse, brother of the groom, William Kennedy, Jr., of Detroit, and Clement Oswald, Jr., brother of the bride, as ushers.

A full-length pink crepe dress with royal blue accessories and a matching orchid corsage was worn by the bride's mother.

She carried a rose rose mayne crepe dress for her son's wedding with which she wore a taffeta periwinkle blue hat, matching blue gloves and an orchid corsage.

Following a wedding breakfast held at the Walden-Sheraton Hotel in Detroit.

For the wedding trip to Cleveland, the new Mrs. Hasse chose a brown and white print dress with which she wore white accessories.

Former Local Girl Wins 2 Scholarships To U of California

Of interest to the many friends of the George Daniels, Wilcox family, formerly of Birmingham, now of Pasadena, Calif., is the news that Jane Wilcox has just been awarded two scholarships to the University of California at Berkeley, one, a state scholarship, the other awarded by the Panhellenic Association of Pasadena.

Jane's plans for the months of July and August include a visit from two Birmingham friends, Nancy Chapel, daughter of the Harold Chapels of Suffolk road, and Nancy Holmes, daughter of the William Holmes of Larchmont, N. Y. The girls will drive to California with Nancy's parents, who will also visit with Jane's family for a short time.

In August Jane will return East with the girls for a round of visits with relatives and friends in Detroit and Birmingham before embarking for Berkeley in the fall.

and a white hat with veiling matching her dress. Her corsage was the orchids from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at the Astor Court Apartments in Detroit.
