

Will Preside Over AFA Convention in Chicago Friday

Fred J. Walls, 629 Pierce street will preside at a meeting of the technical correlation committee of American Foundrymen's Association in Chicago June 20.

Immediate past president of the 500-member International technical society of the castings industry, Walls is chairman of its technical correlation group.

He will lead the discussion of plans for the technical sessions of AFA's 1948 convention and foundry tour.

Also scheduled for consideration at the all-day meeting are proposals for division research projects, suggestions for furthering the association's technical-educational programs, and organization of its national technical groups.

Activities of the eight AFA special interest divisions and of its general interest committees will be reviewed.

Walls is Detroit office manager for International Nickel Company.
