

Birmingham Tennis Club Opens 1947 Season at Kingswood

With the co-operation of Kingswood school, Miss Margaret Auer, Miss Louella Houser, and Mr. J. Anderson, the Birmingham Tennis Club opened its 1947 season at the Kingswood courts last morning. The tennis club members will have the use of the courts from 9:30 a.m. to 7:45 p.m. daily, except Monday, until the fall school term starts in September.

The Birmingham Tennis Club was recently organized with the purpose of increasing the interest and ability of the many players in this community. There will be inter-city and inter-club matches during the season as well as a club tournament for all members.

Later in the season a Birmingham city tournament for all players, both members and non-members will be arranged. The club membership is now closed.

Receives Honors at Amherst College

Outstanding in the record-size class of 239 who received their degrees at Amherst College recently, is John M. Sanders of Epping Lane, Bloomfield Hills, who graduates cum laude, with honors in mathematics.

Manager of Amherst's baseball team for two years; a former sports editor of the Amherst Student, undergraduate newspaper; a member of the Student Council; the honor society Sphinx; and president of the Managers' Association; Sanders has also been a member of Phi Beta Kappa since his junior year. Sanders belongs to Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and was recently named to the Bond Fifteen, an honor group consisting of those fifteen students with the highest general average as they complete the first half of their senior year.

Sanders graduated from the Cranbrook School in 1942, was a lieutenant in the Army Air Forces during the war, and after graduation will enter into business in Detroit.

Weds Rosedale Park Girl at Evening Rites

At a candlelight ceremony last evening, June 25th, Mary Maynard of Rosedale Park, daughter of Horace Sheldon Maynard and the late Mrs. Maynard, and William Edwin Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood James Roberts of Franklin Hills were married at Bushnell Congregational Church. The Reverend Dr. Roger Eddy Treat performed the ceremony.

The bride's heavy white slipper gown was fashioned on traditional lines with a fitted bodice and long sleeves extending to a point over the wrist. A deep inset of rose points lace completed the low modified sweetheart neckline. The very full skirt of the gown extended into a long circular train, and a coronet of rose points lace held her hair in length of will of illusion. The bride's bouquet was of butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

The attendants were gowned alike in golden-gros de laodre. Tiny buttons fastened the fitted bodices, and the full skirts, draped softly about the hips, were gathered with tiny gold belts. Long gold gloves were worn by all the attendants, their bouquets of gloriole lilies, and the same flowers were pinned in their hair. The maid of honor, Cabryn Eddy, was distinguished by a crown of the lilies.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Horace S. Maynard, III, Mrs. John L. Roberts, Mrs. A. A. Holcomb and Miss Carol Chandler.

Donald M. Roberts was his brother's best man and the ushers were John L. Roberts, brother of the groom, Horace S. Maynard, III, brother of the bride, Charles L. Lyle and Albert M. Rogers.

The ceremony was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Rogers in Birmingham.

The groom's mother wore a gown of white silk with sprays of turquoise American gloriole lilies, flowers appliqued on the skirt and shoulders. A white feather and white hat of American beauty formed her hat.

Leaving on a motor trip to Northern Michigan where the couple will spend the remainder of the summer, the bride wore a suit with a maroon silk jacket and navy blue skirt. Her crownless heavy straw hat had contrasting flowers and her accessories were navy blue.

Install Officers of Women's Union of Baptist Church

The annual June luncheon and business meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist Church was held Thursday, June 19, at the home of Miss Marjorie Morse of Adams road. Assisting hostesses were Miss Dorothy Hughes and the new officers, for the session elected at the April meeting.

At this gathering circles for the coming year were formed, and named for missionaries of special interest: Ruth Daniels, stationed at Bengal, Orissa, India; Estelle Martin, Kodiak Baptist Mission, Kodiak, Alaska; and Hazel West, children's worker for the Connecticut State Baptist Convention.

The installation of officers for the 1947-1948 program was conducted by Mrs. Frank D. Gouldburg.

George A. Jackson, president; Mrs. Edgar H. Stretton, first vice-president; Mrs. Samuel H. Griffin, second vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Ackley, secretary; and Mrs. C. B. Griffin, treasurer, assumed the new duties as officers of the Woman's Union.

The meeting closed with the bringing of the love gift, the over and above offering of Baptist women for the work in mission fields stationed throughout the world.

The next meeting will be held September 4.

Jeffries—Cray Rites Read at Christ Church Saturday

Baskets of white lilies adorned the altar and the chancel rail at Christ Church Cranbrook for the lovely wedding Saturday evening of Barbara Ann Cray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloud L. Cray of dress, her bouquet and underneath the bustle.

Colors were reversed in the gowns of the three bridesmaids, Patsy Palmer of Flint, Martha Jane Smith of Birmingham, and Mrs. Nicholas Martin, III, of Newark, O. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor, only in blue, and their flowers were pale yellow pointed daisies.

Junior bridesmaids, Nancy Jeffries, sister of the groom, and Patricia Lee Cray, sister of the bride, wore gowns similar to that of the three bridesmaids, with the same flowers, while the flower girl, Judy Schickman of Atchison, Kan., was a replica of the maid of honor.

Best man for the groom was Russell Dostal, while the guests were seated by Richard B. Cray, Neil Dostal, James Gilchrist, Robert Pierce, Ernest F. Christian and Thomas Jeffries.

Mrs. Cray chose a full-length dress of grey crepe, her hat was of purple violets and pink roses and she wore a purple orchid.

A yellow chiffon gown accented by blue beads was worn by the groom's mother, and she wore a halo effect of blue veiling, with a pink orchid corsage.

Four hundred guests attended the wedding reception which was held in the floodlighted gardens of the Cray home.

The hundred pound wedding cake was flanked by single candles on either side, and the bottom of the cake was edged in lace fern.

In honor of the bride's parents, who celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary Sunday, a bouquet of 30 white roses, from the bridal couple adorned the piano.

For their wedding trip, the couple are motoring to Hinesy Park and Upper Michigan in their new convertible, a gift to them from their parents. Mrs. Jeffries chose a marine blue gabardine suit for traveling, and wore white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return from their honeymoon they will make their home in St. Clair, Michigan.

Edits Michigan Social Register

Just off the press is the Michigan Social Register of 1947, in which the state debutantes of 1946 are listed in a special section.

This year's volume is edited by Mary Ward Dillon.

Mary Ward Dillon, who during her five years of compiling the Register has always aimed to have an authentic listing of Michigan's fashionables.

The 1947 bluebook is dedicated to the publication's sponsors, Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, of Detroit; Mrs. Henry Bourne Joy and Countess Cyril Tolstol, of Grosse Pointe.

Miss Dillon reports that Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham are well represented in the register.
