John R. Corson Marries Toronto Girl Saturday

At a wedding ceremony in Toronto, Ont., Saturday, John Robert Corson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Corson of Chesterfield road, spoke his marriage vows to Patricia Clarke Leonard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Leonard of that city.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was robed in a gown of silver white satin fashioned in simple lines with a round yoke of lace and appliques of lace on the train. A small Juliet cap, with clusters of orange blossoms worn by the bride's mother at her own wedding, held in place the long veil. She carried a half-cascade of lilies-of-the-valley and white sweet peas.

She was attended by Mrs. Charles Rathgeb, Jr., Miss Marion Walker and Miss Eleanor Whetton.

Theodore Corson acted as best man for his brother, and Capt. William Leonard, Washington, D. C. and Bruce Corson of Ann Arbor were ushers.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for a motor trip to North Carolina. They will make their home in Detroit.

Celebrate 60th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth are pictured at Cranbrook House prior to the celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday when Founder's Day was inaugurated at Cranbrook.

Although plans for Cranbrook's Founder's Day festivities were considerably altered due to the weather, 200 guests were present at the celebration which took place in the library of the Cranbrook House.

The program opened with songs by the glee club of Cranbrook, directed and accompanied by Robert Bates, following which Gustavus Pope, who is currently serving on three Cranbrook boards, presented Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth with a congratulatory scroll in honor of their 60th wedding anniversary.

After numbers by the Kingswood Glee Club, directed and accompanied by Lois Chapman Johnson, Henry Scripps Booth read a poem depicting the life of his parents, which he had written for the occasion.

The display of fireworks originally scheduled for Sunday evening will take place on the terrace at Cranbrook House tomorrow evening.

Spring Round-Up Plans Completed In Local Schools

Plans for the Kindergarten Spring Round Up have been completed in Birmingham schools this week.

All children entering school for the first time and their mothers will have an opportunity to meet their kindergarten teachers at this time, and enrollment will take place.

The purpose of the meetings is to register children, obtain medical blanks to be filled out by the family physicians before next September and learn valuable health hints from the school nurse.

Friday, June 6 at 1:30 p.m. is the time for all the parents and children in the Adams School district to meet at the school.

Mrs. O. L. Beardsley is in charge of the summer round-up which is sponsored by the Adams

PTA. On the program will be Mrs. Harold J. Chalk, PTA president, Miss Frances Curtin, school nurse and Paul D. Carter, principal of the school.

Mrs. Glenn Berry will be in charge of refreshments.

Pierce school's round-up will be held next Wednesday, June 11, in the kindergarten class of the school at 3:30 p.m.

Guests will have an opportunity to meet the kindergarten teacher, Miss Frances Brown; Miss Curtin, Principal Malcolm Ferguson, and some of the Pierce PTA members including mother vice-president elect Mrs. Wilson H. Feldman, and the retiring mother vice-president, Mrs. Harry Bowles.

Girl Scouts will care for the children during the afternoon. PTA mothers who are making arrangements for the occasion, to include refreshments, following the meeting are Mrs. Isaac Kidd, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Wright, Mrs. Melvin Hunter, Mrs. Ivan van Schoick and Mrs. C. N. Blunt.

The tea at Franklin School begins at two o'clock Monday, June 9, and the program at Blomfield Village school has been com-

Recitals Next Week By Students of Alma Balmat Grimes

The junior, intermediate and senior pupils of Alma Balmat Grimes are busy this week preparing for their annual piano recitals which will be presented at the Birmingham Community House next week.

The junior pupils have scheduled their recital for June 8 at two o'clock, while the intermediate and senior recital will be Tuesday evening, June 10, at eight o'clock.

Nancy Wanberg, Dorothy Ojala and Nancy St. Denis, a piano trio, will perform in both programs. Alma Grimes will conclude each recital with piano selections.

pleated for two o'clock Tuesday, June 10.

It is suggested that the mothers bring the child's birth certificate and the administration records which the child be five years old by December first of this year to enter kindergarten in September.
