

Rotary Anns Hear Nurse Report on Work in China

Miss Cora Simpson addressed Rotary Anns Monday afternoon when Mrs. Webster Schifelo Linden road was hostess to the group.

Miss Simpson went to China as nurse 40 years ago, returning to the United States only four times during that time. She reported that the work done by the nursing corps in China has been highly effective in controlling diseases in that country. Stagnating the cultural side of the life, which dates back many centuries, she stated that all over China there are fine libraries, works of art and beautiful gardens to be seen.

In her opinion, the Chinese are interested in a Western civilization and in general appeared to enjoy the people of the United States.

The hostesses, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert Gardner, were Mrs. Lewis Morley, Mrs. Chester B. McCormick, Mrs. Durwood F. Barnes and Mrs. James F. Murphy.

To Speak Here

"Development of Personality," will be the subject of the address by Mrs. Morgan Sherman who will speak to the Quorton Parent-Teachers Association on March 27 at the school.

Mrs. Sherman has degrees from Wellesley College and Wayne University and a RN certificate following work at the New York Presbyterian Hospital.

Mrs. Sherman has been interested in giving strong leadership to the world, American children must be guided by their parents to the welfare of others and ready to act for the common good, has spurred on her interest in the education of children and in the functioning of modern America.

To give more guidance, women must function more adequately than they are at present. The schools, especially the secondary schools, must more realistically face such contemporary realities as one child in every two marriages, the highest nervous breakdown and criminal rate we ever knew, and a general feeling of tension and discontent," says Mrs. Sherman.

Awards Received By Pierce School Cubs Last Night

Six cub scouts of the Pierce School Cub Pack B-7 were presented Webelo badges, the highest award in cubbing, at an impressive ceremony last night at the Community House.

Robert Busch of the Detroit Area Council, the principal speaker of the evening, presented the awards to Donald Cooper, Hartley Collins, Wayne Jones, Tommy Kaiser, James Kelly and Robert Luscombe.

One Hundred Attended
More than one hundred cub scouts and their dads were entertained at the dinner, and were introduced to the new cubmaster, William B. Davies, by pack committee chairman T. L. Lascombe.

The evening's program included group singing led by Bill Spence, vocal solos by Tommy Kaiser, and renditions by the Lions Club and Andrew Sisters. Movies taken at Ringling Bros. winter quarters in Florida, were shown by Raymond Hall as a forerunner of the circus to be presented by the Cubs in April in the Pierce School gym.

Receive Lion Badges
Badges of the Wolf rank were bestowed on Arthur Robinson, James Fryce, Jerry McCullough, Robbie Gove, Richard Wilson, Richard Hall and David Gillon. Roddy Wright received both the badge and gold arrow, while Larry Hanft received the gold arrow and Bill Dove the silver arrow.

In the bear rank, Richard Loeving Robert Libby and Sammy Stinson received badged. Frank Phillips and Bill Davies received bear badges and gold arrows. Alan Brown and Robert Barnes and Jon Ross received the double silver arrow of the bear rank.

Robert Luscombe, Wayne Jones and Hartley Collins were awarded lion badges.

Walnut Lake Scout Troop Wins Trophy At Court of Honor

Walnut Lake Scout Troop 41, drawing many of its members from Birmingham, went to court of honor at Review and Honor held at Walnut Lake School last Tuesday with the Sam Houston Trophy for the troop's achievements since the last Court of Review.

The award is made at each Court of Review by the businessmen of Farmington as a memorial to the son of John Samuelson of that city who attained the rank of Eagle Scout before his death.

Troop 41 won the award by a scant four-tenths of one per cent over Troop 35 of Farmington.

Commissioners and other scouting notables were welcomed to the Court of Review and Honor by Lee D. Hanson, chairman of the troop committee of Troop 41.

Youngsters Aid Save the Children Cause at Party

A new plan for raising funds to help European school children was instituted last Saturday when Mrs. Alan Lutz gave a St. Patrick's party for the morning kindergarten of Birmingham schools.

Her young son, Charles Allan, was host to the other members of his class in Quorton. Each child contributed a dollar and some small gifts of school equipment for use in the European lower school.

This party for the young fry was given in place of the silver teas given previously to the same group.

Following the showing of Walt Disney movies and children's recordings, luncheon was served to the group.

The parties will be continued from 9:30 until 1:00 o'clock every other Saturday at the Apple Orchard Nursery School.
