OPEN on Easter Sunday

Club 1930
 By Lis Giles
 Tonight will be another of those popular square dance nights. Clarence Dancy will call and instruct, and we've been reminded to be prompt that eve, at least by 8:30. Plans for the Easter Serenade are coming right along. "If you aren't planning to be at the Community House ballroom April 6th for this semi-formal dance, you can't appreciate the meaning of 'in vogue,'" Fred Vici, general chairman, was quoted as saying. So far, the work of Tom Williams and his decoration committee has been shrouded in mystery. Tuesday, March 25, the club is planning to attend the Pulitzer prize comedy, "State of the Union," currently appearing in Detroit. A block of seats has been reserved and tickets are available through the committee. Some of the bridge "sharks" seen practicing their talents last week were Bill Rosso, Dick Lets, Dorothy Jackson, Bob Erwin, Punch Skuse, Bob Moesley, Norm Flemington, Bob Stites, Betty Hootcher, Lewis Corsi, Ginny Walsh and Ida Martin.

Couple Travel South After Informal Saturday Nuptials

Spring flowers decorated St. Paul's Chapel at Christ Church Cranbrook last Saturday as Victoria Celia Andrade, daughter of Mrs. Frank P. Aldridge of Leland, Miss. Given in marriage by her father, the bride repeated her wedding vows in a soft pink gabardine suit with a matching pink hat and veil. On her shoulder was a corsage of white orchids. Her sister, Doris F. Andrade, as the only attendant, chose a brown gabardine suit with which she wore rose accessories and a corsage of gardenias and roses. John Hebron Moore of Jackson, Miss., acted as best man. Her reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, from where the newlyweds left for a short stay in Hot Springs, Ark., they plan to visit friends and relatives in Natchez, where the Aldridge family home, "Linden," is located. From there they will go to Leland, Miss., where they plan to reside. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Andrade wore a navy blue suit. Her accessories were blue except for her pink hat and pink carnations corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge were unable to attend, but the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aldridge of Boston, flew here for the wedding.

AAUW Groups to Meet Next Week

The book study group of the AAUW will meet on March 24 at the home of Mrs. Russell C. Davies, 917 Glenhurst. Hostesses will be Mrs. C. M. Blunt and Mrs. J. P. McConkie. On the same day the east side book group of that organization will meet with Mrs. Calvin Dennison, 1048 Forest avenue with Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. S. S. Pierce as hostesses. The west side group will be entertained by Mrs. J. P. Neff, 916 Kennesaw. Mrs. E. W. Deer and Mrs. M. J. Bell will be hostesses to that group. The north side book group will be the guests of Mrs. Frank Mahon, 531 Westchester Way, at the same time, with Mrs. Phillip Carlin and Mrs. Wilson Feldman as hostesses for the day. The Child Study group of the AAUW plans a meeting with its leader, Mrs. Robert Vingling, 760 Oakland avenue, on Thursday, March 27, at 8 p. m.

Pontiac Open House Will Mark Poole's Fiftieth Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Poole of Pontiac will be celebrated at their Miami road home on Sunday afternoon at an open house. Both Mr. and Mrs. Poole have lived in Birmingham and Mrs. Poole is the daughter of the Henry M. Benedicts, who were long time residents of this city. As soon as possible, the Pooles plan to make their home here. Last year 321.4 billion cigarettes were sold for domestic consumption, an increase of 53.9 billion from the previous high year of 1945. SOCIETY NEWS must be in the Eccentric editorial office by five o'clock every Tuesday afternoon. Deadline for CLUB NEWS remains at noon Mondays. adv. 14

Formal Ceremony Saturday Evening Unites Local Pair

The First Methodist Church was the scene of lovely nuptial services last Saturday evening. Louise Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Watson of Frank street and Richard Steffy, son of the D. R. Steffys of Chicago, is married. The candlelight service was performed by the Rev. Arnold Runkle before an altar banked with ferns and palms and bouquets of stock and carnations as altar flowers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned with a satin bodice with a marquisette yoke bordered by lace, and a full marquisette skirt which ended in a short train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet centered with orange blossom, and she carried a white bouquet with white orchid and ribbon streamers. The gown of the maid-of-honor, Dorothy Jackson of Birmingham, was of blue taffeta, styled with short puff sleeves and a peplum front which formed a tiny bustle in the back. The bridesmaid was a matching heart-shaped net coronet and her bouquet was of yellow carnations. Joyce Watson of Ferndale and Janette Hinkson of Detroit, cousins of the bride, wore robed in similar gowns and headresses as the maid-of-honor, only in pastel yellow. Their bouquets were of blue carnations. Richard Sample of Chicago was best man, while John Harding, of this city, and Roland Watson, brother of the bride, seated the guests. Mrs. Watson's dress was a French blue street length crepe gown, and she wore a rose flowered hat and black accessories. The groom's mother chose a powder blue, with which she also wore a rose flowered hat and black accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1169 North Woodward, graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with a degree in doctor of medicine at a convocation held in the Irvine Auditorium on the university campus last Saturday. Ormond studied at Princeton University before he entered the school of medicine at Pennsylvania. Mary Jean Henderson is home for spring vacation from the University of Vermont. She plans to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Henderson, 438 Larchlea, for at least a week. News from Michigan State this week is that Nancy Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hanson of Walnut Lake, has become a pledge of Alpha Chi Omega at that college. Haines P. Walmley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Walmley of Wadlington road, has been recently appointed a member of the board of the Merceburg News, student weekly newspaper of the Merceburg (Pa.) Academy. Paula LaTourrette of Ridgedale road is one of 15,000 students enrolled this semester at the Washington University in St. Louis. Paula is a student in the school of fine arts. Catharine Oleschheimer of Baldwin avenue, a sophomore at Western College for Women, will be a member of the chorus in "The Trojan Women," next major production by the theatre group at that college. Another Birmingham collegiate interested in dramatics is Miss M. Elizabeth Schooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Thomas Schooley of Rivenoak road, also a sophomore. When Albion college presents "The Taming of the Shrew," Miss Schooley will perform as a singer in that Shakespearean production.

Troth Revealed at Sunday Open House

Guests at a Sunday open house at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels of Telegraph road were told of the engagement of the Daniels' daughter, Patricia Mary, to William Merritt Beasley, Jr., of Forty Fort, Pa. A table centerpiece which was a low bowl of flowers, carried streamers bearing the names of the engaged couple. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Daniels' sister, Mrs. Frederick Hamilton Park of Beach City, Ohio, and her niece, Mrs. Richard Wheelock Gilpatrick of Marshall, Mass. The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her fiance, a graduate of Harvard College, is a senior in the University of Michigan Law School, where he is a member of Phi Delta Phi Law Fraternity. A June wedding is planned.
