All thoughts these days are on the dance, April 8—if you didn't see Don Ollshouser in the roll of photographer posing Ginny Walsh, Fred Viet and Louis Corio, you'll see them in the roll of the dance, watch your local news-sheet for the results of his work.

Tuesday night saw the gang in their best bibs and tuckers at "State of the Union," and continuing the evening at "After the show" supper and dancing, while those who weren't able to get tickets bridged, pooled, ping ponged and danced at the Ranch Room.

A cigar to Burt Swan, for his work in putting over some swell programs for March!

Orn Sherwood and a committee have taken over for April and are planning to get us outdoors among the birds and flowers and will be discouraging that old spring fever.

And speaking of spring! Plans for the semi-formal Easter Parade are terrific. For you who don't know all about it—this dance is the first of our knowledge in Birmingham and is open to anyone of this age.

Those who haven't been to the Ranch Room of the Community House on Tuesday and Thursday evenings when we meet, come to the dance and see us. Plan to drop in next Tuesday when we'll be making decorative Easter Bunnies.

work in the annual Detroit Flower Show, which completed its stay at Convention Hall last Sunday evening.

Betty Barbara Bergel, who is an accomplished dancer in addition to her other accomplishments, was crowned "Queen of the Garden" last Wednesday, which was Polish Day at the show.

As many Birminghamites attendants of the affair know, the general theme of this year's exhibits was built around the United Nations, and so on Wednesday the traditional Polish garden with a table artificially decorated with Easter eggs originally colored and designed in Poland, the famous lamb made entirely of butter—which is the traditional way of decorating the Polish Easter table—and even such details as their customary cake, the mazurek, took the spotlight for the day.

Officers for Next Year Elected By Barnum PTA

L. C. Minor is again president of the Barnum Parent-Teachers Association, following the annual election of officers held at the school last Thursday evening. Nominations were selected by a nominating committee made up of Mrs. G. M. Crater, chairman, Mrs. Charles Richards and Harold Tugsey.

Other officers include Walter Ewald, father vice-president, Mrs. H. J. Chalk, mother vice-president, and Ralph Battenhouse, new teacher vice-president.

Mrs. Mark Kraus was elected secretary for the coming year. Glenn M. Emery, treasurer, and Miss Betty King, historian.

Following the business meeting, parents of the 9th grade students met with Mrs. Carol Darling and Larned Goodrich, heads of the guidance department at the high school, who recommended courses of study, and explained credits, college and vocational requirements for the graduating students who will enter Baldwin in the fall. The 7th and 8th grade parents met with Miss Marcel Braste and Malcolm Tindell, while elementary children's parents met with Paul Carter, principal of Adams School.

Do you need a Cherry Secretary?
Do you need a chest of drawers?
Do you need an early piece of pine?
Or just an old Boot Jack?

If so—

CHINESE CHIPPENDALE OCCASIONAL CHAIR

Pictured is an exact replica of an original museum piece. It is the kind of furniture that is handed down through the generations. The carvings on the frame are done by hand. The exposed parts are solid mahogany, the hard texture kind that is imported from Peru. We'll cover it in the material of your choice.
