BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Hola!

Some of those enjoying the Teen Canteen party Friday night were Marion Weaver, Elizabeth Lee Belle, Marie Bernier, Margaret Bernier, Marion Monroe, Percy McPhail, Julie Spillman, Lois Burton, Betty Lou Ackerman, George Ehler, Dick Kimball, Jim Holden, Ted Laird and Stan West.

More fellows were Larry Dilley, Chuck Marshall, Richard Blain, Bruce Barnes, Paul McMillan and Bruce Williams.

Coming in from the show to enjoy hamburgers and cokes at the Ranch Room were Judy Pardee, Mary Grovesner, Sis Hanna, Charice Adams, Bill Elliott, Nick O'Donnell, George Townsend, Don Ritter, Bob Hughes and Phil Bine.

Bustily engaged in a bridge game were Shirley Mainland, Mike Maloney, Pat Sanderson, and Johnny Boatford.

Rolling in the aisles with laughter, Pat Page, Gretta Sealhorn, Susie Mook, Mary Bette, Nan Chapel, Joan Edwards, Barb Loveland, Laura Lou Raymond and Olsen Stark threw their heads in sardonic glees when they saw a flashback of the roaring '20's in the picture "Jet Pilot" galloped in to win the Kentucky Derby Saturday, Birmingham's younger socialites dined and danced away the evening.

To celebrate Nancy Keyes' eighteenth birthday Joe Harding sent the girl gardenias and took her to the Boat Club for dinner. Along with them were Jo Flores and Bob Keyes.

Mary Anne Foster, Leon Thornton, Mary Ann Wilkinson, Lloyd Appell, Ann Snyder, Bob Aikens, B. J. Young, Jim Mungler, Arthur Brown, Dave Walker, Lois Patterson, Bill Robertson, Katie Hall, Jack Critton, Joan Gove, Dick Watson, Julie Harrigan, Bill Kindley, Lora Thurston, Deane Gramer, Boots Parks, Bill Buhl, Fred Shinn, Pete Little, Betty Whitelaw, Jack Curley, Janet Steele, Jim Patterson, Judy Olsen, Charles Thomas, Mary Gilchrist, Dale Pearson, Jo Van Wagoner and Dick Reilly to place.

Jo Kates, Don Runke, Jo Dasher, Jim Easter, Mary Springer, Steve Campbell, Doris Whitcroft, Bruce Smith, Sue Hastreiter and Jack Foneroy to show.

Of course, there were many more but Annie was not endowed with eyes in the back of her head. Adios. Annie.

Sports Showup

With the "unconditional release" of star pitcher Dick Blaueman, Al Monroy, the only remaining hurler on the Maple baseball squad, will have a heavy load on his shoulders pitching the rest of the eight scheduled games. Al's record this season is two wins and one defeat.

Mickey Dunn, one of the many Birmingham boys at Western Michigan College, is the only one out for spring sports. He participated in track, throwing the javelin.

Birmingham representatives attending Hilldale College, Bill Golling and Pete Gahn, are also out for spring sports. Bill is on the pitching staff of the ball club and Pete is out for spring football.

At the River Rouge Invitational track meet held recently in the University of Michigan field house, the Maples took fourth place with 22 1/4 points, according to an official bulletin released last week. Ypsi Central, Peoria, and Charlestown took the first three places, and Alma finished behind Birmingham in fifth place.

Another beautiful trophy has come to rest in the Birmingham case, already overflowing. The golden-winged boat was added last Saturday by a quartet of speedsters in the mile relay at the Central Michigan Relays at Mt. Pleasant. Chuck Murray, Duane Murphy, Jack McBride and Jack Phipster, each running a 440 leg, were clocked in 3:42.5, just short of the record.

Coming up in a full spring sports schedule Friday, May 9, baseball, tennis and golf. Port Huron, there; track, Hazel Park, here. Tuesday, May 13; baseball and golf, East Detroit, there; tennis, Cranbrook, there; track, Royal Oak, there.

Bud Gasser played nearly the whole game Saturday in the Michigan State contest which closed spring football practice.

Bill Golling pitched for Hilldale against the University of Detroit last week.

4 Students Enter Poster Contest

A poster contest was sponsored at Baldwin by the National Home and Garden Association in connection with their campaign to beautify Birmingham by planting more flowering crab trees this spring.

Posters were submitted by Lee Barrar, Sally Howard, Henry Price and John Larkins. Others will still be entered. The winner's prize will be a flowering crab tree.
