Junior came home from school after the third day thoroughly disgusted and declared that he wouldn't go back. Mother, troubled, questioned him about the cause of his displeasure. "Well," declared the future President, "I don't know how to read and write and they won't let me talk, so what's the use in going?"

Exhibit Features Handicraft of Cranbrook Pupils

In an exhibition which opened Monday at the Alexander, Girard Galleries in Gross Pointe, jewelry designed and executed by students of the Cranbrook Academy of Art will be shown in an exhibition which also features work of Alexander Calder and Harry Bertoia, former instructor of metal art at Cranbrook, who is now residing in California.

William and Charlotte Whitney, students from Alexandria, Va., have used silver, copper, brass and wood to fashion lapel pins, earrings, rings and belt buckles. Tiger eye and cat eye stones are set in some of their twenty-five pieces.

The silver pins and rings designed and executed by Alissa and Harry Mackie of New Orleans indicate a humorous original approach to their craft.

Balancing Act
Typical examples are a ring, which has a coffee cup and doughnut for ornamentation, and a lapel pin called "Man at a Tea" which shows the figure of a man in relief attempting to balance the items supplied him.

Carol Rowland of Detroit has used obsidian stones and green malachite on some of her pieces which include barrettes, pins, combs and earrings, made of silver.

Some of the eighteen pieces shown by Jack Kearney of Detroit combine metals, such as silver with copper and many are set with semi-precious stones. Abstract, human and animal forms are used in his pins and earrings. The metal art department at the Cranbrook Academy of Art is under the direction of Herman Garfield.

Fifth Avenue in the fabulous Fifties has absolutely nothing on the new Marguey, Inc., the exclusive dress shop that has just opened at 250 N. Woodward Ave. When I first walked in, I felt just like Alice-in-the-New-Yorker advertisements, and signed the guest book right away to let everyone know I'd been there. Marguey, Inc. carries Jane Enzel dresses that we've not been able to find up until now. Fashions by Charles Armour, Craig of California, and Londonderry Sports clothes are just a few of the famous lines to be found at Marguey.

You know, there's nothing like a supply of fresh frozen foods—meats, vegetables, and fruits—to keep the family eating well and hold down the budget. F. & J. Market & Lockers, Inc., Woodward Ave. just south of the 14

Mile Rd., still has a few lockers available. What's more, F. & J. will purchase meat for you at wholesale prices, process it to your specifications, and store it in your locker ready for home use. You can also purchase well known brands of frozen fruits, vegetables, and sea foods in quantities at a considerable saving for storage in your locker or home freezer.

Buying costume jewelry is always a lot of fun, but I never knew you could sell it, until I stopped at the Fine Arts Galleries, Adams Road at Woodward Ave. Mr. Miller buys and sells both antique and costume jewelry, so at least there can be a real profit in cleaning out your top dresser drawer. What's more, if you don't like the dresser, Mr. Miller will buy that, too. Seriously though, the Fine Arts Galleries is a real sale shop, operated on a grand scale, where you can find many beautiful and unusual home furnishings.

No matter whether you have a beribbon four poster, a rope bed, or an extra fine bed for your tall husband, Wieland's Fine Furniture, 523 N. Woodward Ave., get you your Spring-Air mattress to fit it. Wieland's carry full and twin bed sizes in stock, with box springs to match, but can supply odd sizes if you need them. Spring-Air is the mattress that saves the most weight, assuring perfect rest regardless of the sleeper's weight. It will give you simply irresistible comfort!

No doubt you've been in someone's home and wondered where they purchased the unusual lamps. Usually these lamps you admire so much have been made by an organization like George's China Mending Shop, Adams Road at Woodward Ave. George can make stunning lamps out of your prized possessions such as vases, figurines, candlesticks, trophies, oil lamps, or other articles. Another worth-knowing-about service at George's shop is grinding of crystal ware that has been chipped along the edges. And George sends china by a special fusing process that holds forever.

There's no need to trust your own judgment in picking out fixtures for your fireplace, when you can get an organization like Brass Unlimited, Woodward Ave. at the 14-Mile Road, to help you. Mr. Unland will call at your home, measure the fireplace, and then make recommendations as to the style of fixtures that will look just right. You can depend on the quality too, for Mr. Unland handles only solid brass fixtures. Brass Unlimited carries the famous Zenith yarn, in baby colors of course you take a great pride in the appearance of small boys (and so does a father) at least up to the age where they become interested making mud pies. You, ye citizens will look a hundred years younger in an Apco knit sweater from the Colonial Suits Adams Road at Woodward Ave. when they get in the mud. These suits (suits) wash beautifully, Colonial Suits have white poplin suspenders trimmed with bright embroidery that can be worn with a T-shirt, or later in the season now, or later in the season. The shop also handles baby colors.

No more HALF BAKED cakes with my new Gas Range!

"CP" — Certified Performance — is a trademark identifying gas ranges of various brand names which meet the high specifications created by home economists, cooking experts and 1,200 gas utilities working with leading manufacturers. "CP" is a mark of quality. It is not a brand name. Ranges built to "CP" standards are made by 17 different manufacturers to give Cooking Perfection.

Ranges built to "CP" standards are being produced in ever-increasing numbers. You might have to wait a bit for one but a "CP" is worth waiting for. It carries the advantage of time cooking to new heights of convenience and satisfaction. A "CP" range is beautiful and the ideal unit to be the center of your New Freedom Gas Kitchen.
