Former Prisoner of Japs Baptist Mission Speaker

The all-day meeting of the Women's Baptist Mission Society of the Detroit Association and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Baptist Children's Home was held here Nov. 4. A large attendance, representing the Baptist churches of the Detroit area at 10 a. m. for the business meeting, devotional messages and conferences. A luncheon was served at 1 p. m. by the Woman's Union of the local Baptist church.

During the afternoon program Rev. Albert Key, representing the Baptist Children's Home spoke on the work being done by the home. He also gave a resume of the present needs of the home, and his plans for the future.

The speaker of the day was Rev. Paul Collier, director of promotion in New York for the Northern Baptist Convention. He spoke on foreign missions. He and Mrs. Collier, with their son, were released in February 1945 after having been confined in a Japanese prison camp for nearly three years.

Still Leads Men He began his address by saying "Jesus is still the Leader of the life of the world today, and is calling men and women to come and work along with Him. This involves the complete dedication of not only our time and talents, but our money as well."

"The cost of maintaining a mission program today is much higher than it has ever been before, both in the matter of personnel, and of money. We have taken one step in the rebuilding process through the World Mission Crusade, but if we do not take the next step, which is the under-riding of the missionary program, then what was accomplished, through the World Mission Crusade, will be just as much wasted effort."

Prove Faithfulness "The Christian people of China, Burma, Japan and the other countries, have proved their faithfulness during the war years. They were persecuted because of their faith, and yet they remained loyal to it and to the church."

"In these days of political upheaval in some of these countries in the gaining of political independence, they want their countries to be truly Christian, and they might bring to world affairs a Christian type of leadership; but they cannot do the task alone. They need the help of our fellow ship, the help of workers from America; they need the help of our money.

"It must be remembered, of course, that most of our churches on the mission field are self-supporting churches, but the Christian people in those lands are in the minority, and, in order to reach out into every area of life in those countries, they need help from abroad, because there are just not enough Christian people in those countries as yet to do the job.

Mrs. O. C. Davison, soloist of the day sang "Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me." This preceded the talk by the Rev. Mr. Key.
