UGH! GARBAGE

Nobody really likes to handle garbage. It's a disgusting task. But today, there's no excuse for continuing to do it.

DISPOSALL

flushes away food waste before it becomes garbage

With a G-E Disposall unit installed in your sink, garbage collecting is a thing of the past. Peel apples in the sink—let potato peels fall down. Put bones, fat, gristle, waste from hams—in fact, food waste of practically all sorts—into the drain outlet of the sink.

Then give the Safety Twist Control a twist to the left. Let the cold water run a few seconds. The Disposall unit automatically goes into action, and whirr!—food waste is shredded into tiny particles and flushed down the drain.

Safe, simple, sanitary. Drain lines are scoured—won't clog. The Disposall is self-cleaning—it and your sink remain gleaming bright, sweet and clean.

Usable with either sewer or septic tank.

SCF Prepares 425 Gift Bags for Europe's Children

By Alice Morgan

Birmingham does not have to borrow a line from a song to say "Santa Claus is coming to town," for the genial gentleman has already been here. He made his headquarters at the Community House and the home of Mrs. Robert Schilling, for the children of Europe, who, without the help of families in this country would be left to believe they were forgotten.

The final score of the bags packed by the SCF is 425. All are now wrapped, carted to Detroit and sent by train to New York ready for shipment to these eager youngsters.

The collection headquarters were at the Community House, supervised by Mrs. Carol Plumstead. From there the bags went to the Schilling home for final inspection and packing for shipment.

Bags Are Labelled
Needless to say, the home quickly took on the appearance of the Santa workshop, as bags spread from room to room. Two thoughtful families left a basket of toys and a carton of food stuffs, each wrapped in the gay holiday dandy and marked as to contents.

Individual bags were labelled, stating the age they were suitable for, and whether for a little boy or girl. The two large gifts became invaluable as they supplied many articles which could be tucked into the strict corners of bags making them fat and mysterious looking.

Mrs. Schilling was assisted in her work by Mrs. Abigail Burns, Mrs. John Oiler, Mrs. Dudley Blakely and Mrs. Philip Fritz. The collection of the Birmingham SCF extend thanks to the students of Cranbrook School for the excellent posters which they made for display in local stores.

Dr. Ireland Speaker at Southfield Church

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland was the guest speaker at the Southfield United Presbyterian Church Sunday at their "Home and Family Institute." Ireland spoke on "The Home and the School," showing the close relationship of the two, and how they can work together for the immediate benefit of the children and the future benefit of the world.

This Sunday "Young People and Community Problems" will be the topic to be discussed by Tom Quinlan, civic leader in Detroit. On Nov. 30, Dr. Lennox, executive director of the Detroit Council of Churches will speak on "The Home and the Church."

All meetings are held in the Church which is located on 10 Mile road, a short distance east of Lahser road, and are scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Local 'Y' Quintets Split on Games

The Birmingham YMCA intermediates defeated Fisher 'Y', 34 to 22, on the Detroiters floor while their elders, the Green Varsity, was dropping a tough 52-to-48 encounter to the Black and Orange of Northeastern YMCA.

The Big Green started to pile up an early lead against Northeastern as Don Little and Al Larson racked up points with under-the-basket shots that had the visitors completely bewildered. This lead was maintained through the second and third quarters with half time score 18 to 6 and 25 to 24 at the three-quarters mark.

A fast and terrific final quarter saw Roger Reynolds netting 12 points while Guerrini, tall forward of the opposition, threw in 16 points to give the Northeastern a 52 to 48 final verdict.

Locals Third Defeat

Although this was the third defeat for Birmingham, the local 'Y' quintet has maintained steady improvement and should come up with a winner in the near future. The intermediates played their first game against outside competition and led throughout as they swamped Fisher Blues, 34 to 22.
